THIRTY-EIGHTH YEAR

LIMA, OHIO, TUESDAY, APRIL 17, 1923

PRICE THREE CENTS

"TRUST" FUND TO BE ESTABLISHED

Commission's Effort, Blocked by Sellers, to Resume

ILLEGAL AUDITOR SAID

Official Now Out of Office Refused to Act

Second attempt to establish a "revolving" fund to pay for repairs to boulevard lights, installation of water meters and sewer inspection, was made Monday night by the city commission.

A first effort last winter was blocked by Evan O. Sellers, then city auditor, who declared the "revolving" fund plan was an invasion of appropriation; that the establishment of such funds was illegal and that he would have no hand in doing it.

A resolution was adopted Monday evening "providing for the crediting of funds accumulated under ordinance 1530," which was passed last winter.

OFFICIAL NOW OUT OF OFFICE

Or, since 1530, the establishment of "trust funds" by the city auditor. When an automobilist broke a boulevard lighting standard the cost of repair was supposed to be paid with money taken from the "trust fund." The money was later collected from the person causing the damage and turned back into the fund.

Sometimes ago, it is reported, the city manager asked for funds from the water meter "trust" fund to make repairs. It was then found that Sellers had not established the fund. Despite the ruling of City Secretary Paul Landis that the pro-
to refuse to establish the plan.

George L. Gableman, examiner for the state department of inspection and supervision of public offices, said Monday morning that the city charter permitted the city to establish such funds.

MANY AT CLINICS

125 Physicians at St. Rita's—
Dr. Carothers Here

More than 125 visiting physicians had arrived by noon Tuesday to attend medical and surgical clinics conducted by the staff of St. Rita's hospital.

The clinics, which continued throughout the day, will be followed by a diagnostic clinic at 4:30, conducted by Dr. Robert Carothers, head of the Ohio State Medical association.
Visiting physicians attended a luncheon at the hospital at noon.
Tuesday evening at 6:30 they will attend a banquet, following which Dr. Carothers will address members of the Allen-co Medical association on the "Diagnosis and Treatment of Fractures."

APPROACHING ROYAL WEDDING DRAWS YANKS

LONDON.—Legions of American sightseers are descending upon London to catch a glimpse of royal splendor in matrimony. The wedding of the Duke of York, who some day may be king of England, to Lady Elizabeth Bowes-Lyon, scheduled for April 26, is the object of their curiosity and the increasing numbers landing from every boat from New York caused one newspaper to remark: "It is the typical democratic love for the aristocracy."

With these new arrivals and the hastening of preparations for the marriage ceremony, London town itself is beginning to take on carnival appearance.

NEW PARKING PLAN IS STARTED IN PUBLIC-SO

City employees Tuesday marked off part of the public square for the new automobile parking system.
Under the new system cars at the curb are parked parallel to the sidewalk; two rows are parked obliquely and dovetail into each other and then another row is parked obliquely along the street car tracks.

This new plan gives each car ample space to go in and out without interfering with traffic or with other parked cars, parked there.
The entire public square will be marked off in the next few days.

TAX WARNING SENT OUT Assessment returns are coming in at a rate far below normal according to R. Phillips, county auditor.
He issued an additional warning
Monday that unless blanks are filed by May 1, the $100 exemption will not be allowed. The penalty may also be added to the tax, Phillips said.

CAPPER WARNS OF FARM DANGER

Pounding Prices Down Threatens Food Supply, He Says

TOPEKA, Kas.—(United Press)—
The present farm-labor shortage is a warning of a serious situation now developing, Senator Arthur Capper, congressional farm bloc leader declared today in a statement to the United Press.

Capper asserted that low agricultural prices may result in so many people leaving the farms that it will cause a food shortage. Referring to a prediction of Illinois employment experts that farmers might force congress to admit more immigrants to alleviate the farm labor shortage, Capper said the farm bloc would be inclined to consider such a thing with "caution."

(By SENATOR ARTHUR CAPPER)
There is no desire among the members of the farm bloc to lift the immigration restrictions, so far as I know. I think that it will be inclined to consider this question with considerable caution. And I doubt if there will be a very serious shortage of labor on farms except during the abnormal rush of harvest. The use of improved machinery such as the combination harvester will tend to hold down the shortage even then.
But there will doubtless be a lack of farm help at certain times in most communities.

CAUSE SUGGESTED
This is coming, just as I said it would, because of the relentless pounding down of agricultural prices for the last three years. It is a perfectly logical outcome of a most unhappy economic situation.
Farming has been unprofitable in the last three years with the larger proportion of the producers and they are quitting for the better opportunities offered by the cities.
Naturally they will quit. We cannot expect the farmer to continue to do the hard work of food producing indefinitely when there is no financial reward. And I believe this movement to the cities will continue for agricultural prices are not yet on a fair basis when compared with the things a farmer must buy.

So long as a farmer is penalized by our economic system for being a producer, just as long will the young folks on the farm be attracted by the high wages and the short hours in the city.

This labor shortage is merely a warning of what is to come. I hope the country can see it in time. If this era of low agricultural prices is continued with the sale of products below the cost of production as has occurred in a vast number of cases, it may result in many of the rural people moving away that it will cause a food shortage. As it is, hundreds of thousands of the best of the young people have left the farms, most of them never to return. This movement will be continued until the purchasing power of the farmers' dollar has been restored.

The villagers had their first experience under the new order Sunday.

WATCHMEN KEPT AT CROSSINGS

Measure Changing This Law Killed by Governor

DISAPPROVES ENGINE ACT

Objects to Relieving Roads of Locomotive Reports

COLUMBUS — (United Press)—
With the veto today of two more bills passed by the 85th general assembly Governor Donahey raised his total of measures killed by executive power to 16.

The most recent victims of the official ax are bills by Senator Pence, Highland-co, and Senator Gardner, Cincinnati.

The Pence bill would have relieved railroads of the duty of filing with the public utilities commission reports of inspections of locomotive boilers. This measure was vetoed on the grounds that as long as inspections are required by law, a record of such work should be filed and that the bill weakens the present inspection law.

The Gardner bill would have changed the safety crossing law so that railroads would not have been required to keep watchmen at dangerous crossings unless so ordered by the public utilities commission. In his message the governor objects to the placing of the burden "on the traveling public, railroad employees or the commission."

It was pointed out that if the proposed law had given the roads the right to appeal where watchmen are unnecessary, and that the watchmen would have been retained until the final order was given, it might have met executive approval.

BILLS SIGNED

Donahey today signed the bill by Representative Rebmam, Cincinnati, agreed upon by organized labor and employers, to increase weekly awards to injured employees under the workmen's compensation act from $15 to $18.75 a week and death awards from $5,000 to $7,500.
The measure becomes a law in 90 days.

Rebmam's bill was introduced in conjunction with a joint resolution proposing a constitutional amendment to abolish the clause in the workmen's compensation laws, permitting injured employees or their dependents to have the option of suing the employers for injuries resulting from failure to comply with the "lawful requirement" provisions or accept compensation from the state insurance fund.

The bill and the joint resolution were both passed in the closing hour of the session which preceded the legislative recess, after legislative leaders had attempted to block action by holding it in committee.

PARDON BOARD MEASURE

Other bills signed by Donahey today include the only measure the general assembly approved in his legislative program. The bill abolishes the present board of pardon and parole and creates a two-member, bi-partisan board of clemency, members of which will give full time to the work and be paid $4,500 a year. The bill was introduced by Representative Routson, Democrat of Darke-co.

Donahey, also approved the following bills:

By Representative Green, of Portage-co.—appropriating $300,000 for purchase of additional land for the state fair grounds.

By Representative Robinson, Lawrence-co.—making it a felony, punishable by one to seven years imprisonment, knowingly to conceal a felon.

By Representative Lipp, Cincinnati.—authorizing exchange of certain property in North Bend, Ohio, for William Henry Harrison memorial park.

By Representative Gordon, Cincinnati.—appropriating $7,500 for a history of the 166th Ohio infantry in the World War.

By Representative Wendt, Columbus.—abolishing the law requiring holders of federal permits to sell intoxicating liquors, to file duplicates of their permits with the state prohibition commissioner.

By Representative Eubright, Tuscarawas-co., authorizing purchase by the state of the site of the village of Schoeburn, where the first school and church were established west of the Ohio river and appropriating $10,000 for the purchase.

By Representative Gordon, Logan-co.—authorizing city of Bellefontaine to pay Bellefontaine Development Company for laying water

SUGAR IS 18 PER CENT HIGHER

General Price Increases in March Are Shown

WASHINGTON — (Associated Press)—An increase of one and one quarter per cent in wholesale prices in March as compared with February was shown in figures on 404 commodities announced today by the bureau of labor statistics of the department of labor.

Building materials and metals again showed the greatest advance in prices, the increase for commodities in these two groups averaging three and seven per cent respectively. Smaller increases were recorded for groups of farm products, foods, clothes and chemicals, and drugs, house furnishings, goods and miscellaneous commodities.

In the food group, raw sugar averaged 18.2 per cent higher and granulated sugar 17.6 per cent higher in March than in February.

Fuel and lighting, with an average decline of 2.7 per cent, showed the only decrease of all the commodity groups, due to further declines of bituminous coal prices.

Of the 404 commodities on which the averages were based, increases were shown in 189, decreases in 79, and 136 were unchanged.

Compared with March a year ago, the general level of prices showed an increase of 12 per cent. Metals and metal products were 36.7 per cent higher; building materials 27.7 per cent; clothes and clothing 16.7 per cent; farm products 19 per cent and miscellaneous commodities 8.5 per cent.

AMERICAN BILL TIES UP PARIS CONFERENCE

PARIS.—An American demand for absolute priority on German reparations to pay the costs of the American army of occupation on the Rhine, was continuing today to deadlock the conference here over this question, it was stated in well informed quarters. Elliot Waas-worth, assistant secretary of the treasury, representing the United States, declared there was no warrant for the statement that the conference had broken up.

The allied delegates assert that if absolute priority were given the United States the first effect would be to block German shipments of coal to Italy and also to force the British government to pay the costs of its army on the Rhine or elsewhere. This latter point is disputed in informed circles where it is asserted that the British now are getting more from the Germans than the cost of their army through the recovery act which in straight receipts is yielding annually 6,800,000 pounds, it is stated.

NEW CANDY RECIPES

Beginning today, The Lima News presents to its readers one of the most interesting features imaginable on a subject everyone is interested in—CANDY. Mrs. Ora Snyder, America's candy queen, will give readers of The News a score of candy recipes which helped her amass a fortune of a million dollars in 13 years turning out home made candy. The first recipe appears on the Woman's page today.
One a day will be printed. Put them in your recipe book or file.

Two Die While Watching Bout

BUENOS AIRES.—(Associated Press)—Two spectators at a boxing match in Cordoba died of heart disease yesterday as they watched a fight which was not unusually exciting.

The deaths occurred almost simultaneously at the end of the second round of the bout. The victims were a chauffeur and a bricklayer.

WORK TO RESUME

Donahey and Herrick Agree on Road Program

COLUMBUS — (Associated Press)
—Indication that Governor Donahey and Director of Highways Herrick had reached at least a partial agreement in their controversy over the state's road construction program was given today when Mr. Herrick announced that the state was preparing to receive bids for thirty projects, all of which had been approved by the governor and Director of Finance Baker.

The bids on the new construction work, if permitted to be accepted, would mean the first large contract letting of the spring. They will be opened May 4.

At the executive office it was said that the lettings had been agreed to after certain costly types of materials were removed from the specifications and cheaper types of material were permitted to be bid up on in connection with all brick or concrete projects.

More than 77 miles are involved in the letting which includes construction work in Ashland, Clark, Trumbull, Fairfield, Holmes, Knox, Portage, Huron, Vinton, Lake, Logan, Mahoning, Ottawa, Tuscarawas, Darke, Erie, Gallia, Mercer, Putnam, Miami, Richland, Warren and Delaware-cos.

MURDER TRIAL IS HALTED BY ELECTION

CLARKSBURG, W. Va.—City elections today caused a halt to be taken in the trial of Fatsy Corbin of Baltimore, facing a indictment in Harrison-co criminal court which charges him with being an accessory in the murder of Frank Naples, Kelly Hill barber, more than a year ago.

When the trial is resumed tomorrow attorneys for the defense are expected to renew their efforts to secure a change of venue in Corbin's case. It is contended that a fair trial cannot be secured in Harrison-co because of the sentiment against the alleged Corbin membership.

DIE IN FIGHT WITH RUM RUNNERS

Louisiana Deputy and Prohibition Agent Are Victims

LIQUOR GANG MAKES ESCAPE

One 'Receives Bullet Wound,
However, Before Getaway

NEW ORLEANS — (Associated Press)—Two deputy sheriffs were shot and killed in a battle with rum runners at the Lake Borgne canal bridge near Violet La., today. Dead were Joseph L. Estopinal and August Belton. The latter was also a federal prohibition agent. The two men fell mortally wounded at opposite ends of the bridge and rum runners sped toward New Orleans.
Poses were formed and hundreds of armed men were hunting the slayers along the Mississippi river.

The deputies patrolled the road all night in an attempt to stop the practice of rum running which has resulted in the terrorizing of the wayfarers by armed thugs.

OPENING OF BATTLE

Early this morning the deputies saw a truck loaded with rum pass and took up their position on the bridge awaiting the arrival of others. Estopinal at the upper end of the bridge ordered the driver to halt.

The negro driver began shooting.
A bullet struck the front wheel of the truck, glanced and entered the de-puty's mouth. Almost simultaneously a report was heard at the other end of the bridge. Deputy Evans had fallen, his body riddled by bullets fired from ambush. Before other deputies could shoot the truck started and sped up the road toward New Orleans. They fired several times and one of its occupants was believed to have been wounded.

They were starting in pursuit when they heard another truck approach the bridge. They halted it and found it was laden with whiskey.
The men were arrested. The police took in custody several others on suspicion.

BANDITS SHOOT 2

Robbery of Postoffice Attempted in Oklahoma

PAWBUKA, Okla.—(Associated Press)—Robert Wilkerson, son of the local chief of police, and a "shorty" Harrison, service car operator, were shot and dangerously wounded early today when they attempted to rob the postoffice here.
Both were walking toward the postoffice when they were ordered to halt by three bandits standing guard outside. They did not obey and were fired upon with rifles and shotguns. Wilkerson's wounds are expected to prove fatal.
The bandits failed to obtain an loot and escaped in an automobile after the shooting.

CHILD IS KILLED

Train Crashes Into Automobile Party at Akron

AKRON.—(United Press)—
A child was killed and four persons perhaps fatally hurt when a Baltimore and Ohio passenger train crashed into an automobile early today.

Her skull fractured, Thelma Forter, 7, died instantly. The following are in a hospital, their condition critical.

Russell Lemaster, 39, driver of the automobile.

Mildred Lemaster, 5, the former's daughter.

George Lathes, 4.

Lemaster was returning home with the four children after a pleasure trip. The train was a Baltimore and Ohio passenger enroute to Cleveland.

THOUSAND CHICKS A DAY THRU LIMA POSTOFFICE

An average of 1,000 chicks per day have passed thru the Lima post office for over a week, Superintendent of the mails, G. F. Winemiller, stated Tuesday.

Most of the chicks come from local hatcheries and are mailed as far east as New York state. Destination this week for the most of them has been eastern Ohio.

BOOST FOR PENSION FUND

Lima's police pension fund received $26.50 Tuesday as the local department's share of the advertising returns from the National

KITE CONTEST IS GIVEN BOOST

Kiwanis Speakers Invade City Schools Tuesday

EARLY ENTRIES ARE URGED

Annual Event to be Held Saturday at Fair Grounds

Speakers from the Kiwanis club gave talks in the city schools Tuesday, urging speed in the mailing in of entry blanks for the kite contest, to be held at the Allen-co fair grounds, Saturday.

A speaker was sent to each grade and high school building in the city. One of the speakers, in explaining the kite, said it was probably first named after the kite bird, once the most familiar bird of prey in Great Britain. This bird is about 27 inches in length and one half of its length is made up of its deep forked tail.

Kites were invented, tho not so called, four centuries before the Christian era, by Archytas of Tarentum. Science first used kites in 1749 when Dr. Alexander Wilson attached a thermometer to a kite and sent it aloft, thus finding out the difference in the temperature in the higher altitudes.

USE OF THE KITES
Kites have been used to carry lines across streams or deep chasms and to convey life lines to stranded ships. Koreans, Chinese, Japanese, Malaysians and East Indians enjoy kite flying as their national pastime.

The Kiwanians told the school pupils how they could build various kinds of kites and explained the rules of the contests.

There will be prizes offered for the largest, smallest, prettiest, oddest, highest flying, strongest pulling and box kite and for the kite battle which should be one of the most interesting events of the afternoon.

Knife and saw blades are to be attached to the kite strings and the idea is to cut down opposing kites by any method except using physical force on the person flying it. This event will take place at 4 o'clock but the kites must be on exhibition for inspection by judges at 11 a. m.

Judges for the various events will be C. A. Bingham, city manager; J. E. Collins, superintendent of schools and Judge E. J. Jackson of the criminal court.

TRAIN IS BOMBED

Attempted Wreck Follows Dramatic Move in Ruhr

PARIS — (United Press) — Attempts were made today to wreck trains carrying French and Belgian cabinet members into the Ruhr district to supervise the enforcement of more drastic methods by the armies of occupation.

A train supposed to have been carrying French officials into the occupied area was bombed and the tender derailed. No one was injured.

Railcars were torn from the track ahead of the speeding train which was carrying the Belgian minister of defense, Devezze to Dusseldorf, but the wreckers were chased away and the train crew forewarned.

NEW FLYING RECORD IS SET AT DAYTON

DAYTON — At 9 o'clock this morning Lieutenant MacReady and Kelly had covered approximately 2,643 miles in their endurance flight. The aviators had gone over the 21 mile course 35 times. In addition to breaking the 1500 kilometer record, they established a record for 2,000 kilometers of 17 hours 7 minutes and 24 seconds. Lieutenant Harold Harris in a Curtiss racer, flying over the same course in an effort to break the 1500 and 2,000 kilometer records established by MacReady and Kelly, had covered eight laps at 9 o'clock, flying at an average of 121 miles an hour. Observers at Wright Field report both planes functioning perfectly.

WILL RECEIVE $40,000 FOR HUSBAND'S DEATH

COLUMBUS — Mary Conrad will receive $40,000 from the Youngs-burg and Ohio River Coal Company for the death of her husband, Henry Conrad, the supreme court today decided. Conrad was killed while riding in a car from the mine to his home. The common pleas court and court of appeals for Cuyahoga refused to grant the damages and the supreme court reversed the decisions. The industrial commission had refused to grant a death award in the case.

$21,000 IN SUIT FROST TONIGHT AGAIN FORECAST

Foreclosure on Mortgage Sought by Harrod Man

Foreclosure action to realize on five promissory notes amounting to $21,000 was instituted in common pleas court Tuesday by Charles A. Eversole, Harrod, against F. J. Swanson, Jennie Swanson and Solomon Mortgage & Loan company.

The Swansons reside near Harrod and, according to the petition, are owners of a tract of 120 acres of Auglaize-tp land.

The five notes were given in 1920 to cover advances made to the defendants. They are secured by a mortgage covering the land, according to the petition.

One note, due March 1, 1923, was for $1,000. The others were drawn for $5,000 each and were scheduled to become due March 1, 1926. Alleged failure of the defendants to meet the first note, the petition recites, caused the entire loan to become due.

A foreclosure of the mortgage is sought.

PROBE CONTINUES

WASHINGTON — All the facts thus far unearthed by the department of justice in its investigation of the rise in sugar prices have been laid before Attorney General Daugherty, who is at Asheville, N. C., acting Attorney General Seymour announced.

After a long distance conversation with Daugherty, Seymour said, the attorney general "had directed the investigation to be continued vigorously."

TRIAL IS DELAYED

WASHINGTON — Despite drastic court measures to expedite action there was a further delay today in starting the trial here of Charles W. Morse and others on charges of war-time shipping frauds. Yesterday a bench warrant was issued for the arrest of Harry Morse, one of the defendants, but he again failed to appear for trial.

WASHINGTON — Informal representations have been made by France to the United States regarding the Chester concession for an American development in Turkey. It was learned today.

REST ROOM ROOF DECLARED SAFE

Portion of Concrete, Once Frozen Will be Relaid

NOT ACCEPTED BY COUNTY

Architect Not Worried Concerning Ventilating of Place

A portion of the concrete slab which does double duty as a sidewalk and roof for the new underground comfort station at the court house, will be relaid, Frank Leech, architect, announced Tuesday.

The finish of top surface was applied by Potts brothers, contractors, late in the fall and was caught by freezing weather before it set properly. As a result the surface has checked and cracked.

The top alone is affected, Leech declared, as the base below was put down long before cold weather set in.

Leech said that the checking at one corner of the station may have given rise to the impression that the roof of the station was insecure.

ROOF IS SECURE

"No one need worry," he said, "the base is strong enough to bear the weight of a heavily loaded five ton truck. It is strongly reinforced with steel rods, and supported with retaining walls."

Commissioners said Tuesday the matter of the roof of the station had not been called to their attention. They have not accepted the job, and will not until it is completed and ready for use. If the station is not up to specifications, they say, it will have to be made right before the county pays for it.

"We are not concerned about the roof," declared Commissioner A. J. Gray. "We would like to see the station opened for use, however, before warm weather sets in."

Architect Leech also declared that complaints that the station will be poorly ventilated will be found to be unfounded, once it is in use. Workmen are building concrete stairs leading down into the station from the street. Plumbers are also at work installing fixtures.

THEFT ADMITTED

Albert Boam, 13, of Memphis, Tenn., arrested at 1 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, admitted to police he broke into the Frank H. Russell store at 117 E. Wayne-st. and stole five guns and three watches, Sunday night.

He was taken near the Ohio Steel Foundry when police were told that a man had been seen there carrying two guns. He was described as a dangerous character.

Officers Watkins and Sanders and Detective Chief Kipker, made the arrest.

GIRL SAVES TWO

CLEVELAND — Carrying out instructions she had learned in a recent Girl Scouts test, Elizabeth Krakau, 14, late last night rushed twice into a burning dwelling and rescued a ten month old child and an aged woman.

HE BE GONNA WED HEBE, HE BE!

Everybody knows this girl only as "Hebe." She's a Paris model, said to be the most perfectly formed woman on earth. Walter Kingsland, wealthy young New Yorker, agrees with that and will marry her, say Paris cable reports.

CHORUS PLANNED

Kiwanians to Sponsor Civic Music Society

Organization of a civil choral society to compete in the Elstodoff to be held June 16 at Mansfield, is planned by the Lima Kiwanis club. Don Johns is chairman of a committee appointed by the board of directors to perfect plans at a meeting to be held Tuesday evening.

The society will not be composed exclusively of Kiwanians. The local club will merely sponsor the organization, which will be made permanent.

It is hoped to have at least 100 voices in the chorus, Johns said Tuesday. Several years ago Lima was widely known thruout the state as a music center. The Lima Choral society made many trips to cities in all parts of the state. Several recent attempts to revive the old organization failed. The latest move is for an entirely new organization.

Harding Backs Gary's Views on Immigration Law

LABOR SHORTAGE THREATENS

New Measure Being Drawn by Secretary Davis

WASHINGTON — (Associated Press) — President Harding was said at the White House today to believe that E. H. Gary, chairman of the board of the United States Steel Corporation, was quite correct in his statement made to the corporation's stockholders yesterday that a serious labor shortage was threatened thru the operations of the restrictive immigration law.

Secretary Davis, it was said, presented today to the president a report compiled by the labor department showing that a labor shortage already exists in some trades calling for skilled labor. The report was said to indicate that the shortage was being felt especially in the steel industry.

Secretary Davis has been at work for several weeks on a new immigration bill, but White House officials said they were unable to say whether provision was to be made in it for allowing skilled laborers to come into the country in excess of quota limits in case of labor shortages.

LAW DEFENDED
At the same time Chairman Johnson of the house immigration committee issued a statement defending the law and declaring large corporations who had attacked it wanted cheaper labor.

"If the immigration laws are relaxed," Johnson said, "for every one immigrant who will come as a possible employee of the steel and other corporations, nine will come to drag down the living standards of the United States. These corporations want cheaper labor. Cheap labor makes a cheap country. Common labor works for twenty cents a day in Haiti and for forty cents a day in Porto Rico where thousands are unemployed."

"A few weeks ago Charles M. Schwab, in an interview had never seen such extreme misery as exists in England thru unemployment. Our restrictive immigration act helped to transfer five million people in the United States out of work to work at good pay in 15 months time. If any selective law is enacted it should apply to the immediate blood relatives of those now here before we begin to take in new foreign laborers without giving thought to the later necessary admission of their families."

Life extension by disease prevention. Dr. Foust.

ENGLISH PEERESS IN LABOR PARTY

Countess of Warwick Ardent Laborite Supporter

(BY MILTON BRONNER)
LONDON — (Special) — Imagine the wife of one of the Vanderbilts or Rockefellers joining an American Labor party whose leaders preached nationalization of land, mines and railways, and a capital levy upon big fortunes in order to wipe out war debts.

And you can get some idea of the beautiful Countess of Warwick becoming one of the most ardent supporters of the British Labor party. To help the party she has offered her splendid home "Easton Lodge," in Sussex as a place where the parliamentary leaders of the Laborites may spend week-end to recuperate and to confer.

The granddaughter of Viscount Maynard, she is the wife of the Earl of Warwick, who holds some of the oldest and proudest of British titles of nobility. He is the owner of the famous Warwick castle, which for some years has been leased to an American. The countess owns 23,000 acres of land in her own name. I was curious to learn at first hand why a woman who by birth and wealth belonged to the most exclusive of British aristocracy, had become an active member of the party whose rank and file is made up of the British toilers.

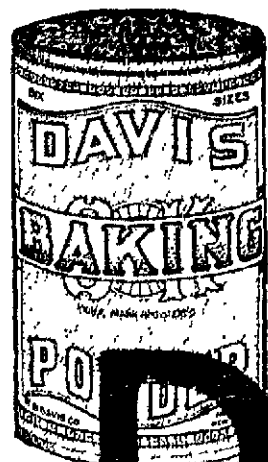

MEMBER FOR YEARS

She replied quite simply and unaffectedly: "I have belonged to the Labor party for as many years as it has existed, so that the discovery of my views is hardly new. I am glad to be working with those who are treating with serious consideration and more adequate grasping the pressing problems of our time. With such a combination of talent and earnestness they have shamed other political parties."

"Those who have direct knowledge of the sufferings, mental, moral and physical, to which millions of our fellow countrymen are subjected in our present social and industrial conditions, are holding out welcoming hands to this great Labor movement which will assuredly make for the spiritual and economic emancipation of the people. Thus we are working, and trust that ere long the government will be in these able hands."

WHAT Is Double Gum-Dipped?

Car-owners are naturally interested in just what the double gum-dipping process means in tire-building. For its importance to mileage performance has attracted attention everywhere.

This improved process in cord tire construction is rarely found in other than Firestone Cords. Extremely difficult to carry out, most tire manufacturers consider its expense prohibitive.

Yet Firestone has now so perfected and simplified gum-dipping, that notwithstanding their many advantages, Firestone Cords cost no more.

By this process the cord fabric is dipped in a heavy solution of liquid gum or rubber. When thoroughly saturated it is removed and allowed to dry. Thin coats of sheeted rubber are then pressed upon each side of the cord fabric in a process called "calendering." Thus there is double assurance that each separate cord is completely submerged in live, springy rubber.

The deterioration of tires caused by internal friction is well known by experienced car owners. Excessive heat is generated that literally burns away many miles of service.

In Firestone Cords, internal wear is practically eliminated. Gum-Dipping makes them stronger and more resilient. It is largely responsible for the buoyance and easy-riding Firestone users experience.

There is a good dealer near you who sells and services Firestone Cords. Go to him this month if you are looking for the way to reduce your tire costs.

Sure Way to Get Rid of Dandruff

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. Then you destroy it entirely.

To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.

WHISPERING SAGE

By Harry Sinclair Drago and Joseph Noel—Copyright, 1922.

THEY WERE HERE

Mercedes, Esteban and little blind Basil are children of Jose Arrascaide, leader of the Basque gentes in Paradise Valley. Dick Acklin, big boss of the Double A ranch, who had been told by the Basques of the water supply, Blase Kiplare, new arrival in the valley, meets an old friend, Joe Kent, and tells him that he is following the man who murdered his young brother.

HOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

From where he waited a short three hundred yards brought him to the road that dipped down into the valley across the Double A line. He reached the willows in the creek-bottom none too soon. Hardly had he thrown his horse when Cash and his men thundered by. Morrow was determined only upon getting to the scene of action as quickly as possible.

"Hike back to the creek," he ordered. "Watch out. This thing to the west look cracked to me." In ten minutes Blase had retraced his way to within a hundred yards of the spot where Esteban was. So, unaware of each other, stalker and stalked made their way downstream on opposite banks.

The rim of the golden-yellow moon crept above the range at Kildare's back, silhouetting him in its glowing fire. Catlike, he slid from his saddle. Below him a few yards, a rock outcropping lay in shadow. Already the moon was searching out the hillside that fell away to the willows. Dropping the rein over My Stan's head, Blase wriggled on his stomach until he reached the rocky ledge.

Esteban got down on his hands and knees and studied the bank of rock and sand that filled the channel of the creek, all unmindful of the grim figure that lay on the rocks above him.

He slid into the water. It came to his armpits. Breasting the current, he waded to where the cloud-burst had once closed the mouth of the Webster. No such barrier arose now. Unimpeded, the water swept by him. The theft was plain and certain.

Wet and bedraggled, Esteban crawled on to the bank. But he had not gone twenty yards before something moved in front of him. It was My Man, grazing where he had been left. The boy could not turn back. A second brought him abreast of the rocky ledge.

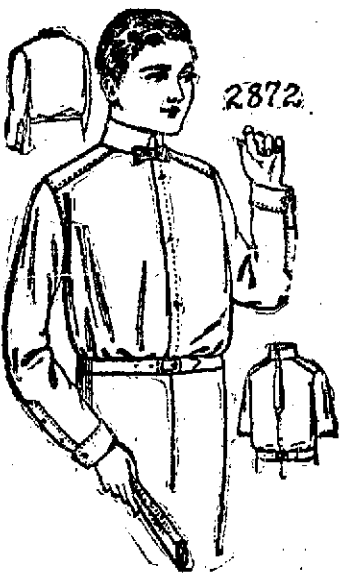

Esteban's keen eyes located his enemy as he crouched, rifle at his shoulder, on the outcropping. Eye and finger acted at the same moment in the young Basque. In wild panic he emptied his gun.

From the road across the creek came cries of men and the patter of rapidly driven horses. With savage home. His mount, the gray Bodine had broken for him, leaped ahead in mite-devouring strides. Once he reached the road, he would be unbeatable.

Blase felt his arm. It burned as though he had been branded with an iron. He did not recognize Esteban; but when he saw him head for the road he guessed his intention. The way around by the Chimney was the only means of escape. Kildare got into his saddle and lined straight for it.

Blase reached the chimney in advance of the Basque by a full minute. He found the road in front of the wall of rock in darkness. No ray of moonlight penetrated there. Slipping from the saddle he waited.

The tattoo of the flying hoots grow louder and louder. Another instant, and the gray was upon him. The fence came almost to the road. The boy on the gray's back pulled him up, and wheeled him to swing down into the valley south of the wire. Blase jumped for the bridge, and with his unajured arm jabbed his six-gun into Esteban's ribs.

The gray shied, dragging Blase into the moonlight. Recognition was simultaneous with both. Blase brought his gun down with a shudder. The boy would never know how near he had been to death.

Esteban saw the blood-covered arm. The pursuing horsemen pounded at their back. Esteban stiffened. "You ran it out of here!" Blase growled. "You thank the moon, not me, that you are alive to do it!"

CHAPTER X
An Important Meeting
One-Eyed Manuel was lazily polishing and arranging his glasses in a formidable pyramid when Buck Bodine banged open the swinging doors and strode menacingly up to the bar.

"Where's all the Basque gente tonight?" Buck asked insolently. "Bah!"

With growing anger he strutted about the deserted town, trying to learn what had happened at the fence. His impatience was akin to that with which Juan and Romero Ugarte and young Salvador Rodriguez and their fellow-conspirators waited at the sheep coral north of the Ugarte ranch for the belated Esteban.

Esteban's regard for himself had altered largely in the five miles he had come from the Chimney. With the cheers of his followers ringing in his ears, he was not inclined to tell them by what fortunate circumstance he was here, safe and sound. Therefore his colorful recital held no mention of Kildare. When he had finished, his position as their leader was secure.

ESTEBAN'S EYES LOCATED HIS ENEMY AS HE CROUCHED, RIFLE AT HIS SHOULDER, HE FIRED.

With a jingle of spur-chains, they headed for the Rancho. Esteban stopped for consultation. He despatched Romero to reconnoiter the ground for him.

Romero waited until the meeting got under way before he stole back to his crowd.

Tuscarora finished his appeal for law and order and was about to show them the foolhardiness of restoring to the tactics some of their young men had employed earlier in the evening when the wild clatter of rapidly driven horses forced him to stop.

Esteban could not have hoped for a more dramatic entrance. He tramped authoritatively to the center of the big room he knew so well. "I come from the other side of the Double A wire!" the boy announced. In an instant the meeting was in an uproar.

Cries of "Tell us what you saw!" Cesar Ferri, a great hulk of a man from down on the river, got to his feet, and, in a voice to match his weight, shouted for silence. The very size of the man seemed to have commanding effect.

"Give the boy a chance!" he cried. "Tell us how you got by the fence." Esteban told them; and the murmurs of approval that greeted him as he went along gave the boy the courage he needed. Jose and Tuscarora exchanged glances. The thing they had feared was happening.

"I ran my hand over every inch of this pile of rock and sand. No storm ever put it there! It is full of granite and quartz stringers that are as sharp as the day they were blown out of the solid rock."

He paused to let his information sink home.

"But they didn't stop there! The scabbard that stretched across the mouth of Webster Creek is gone. The water came up to my neck. Now," he cried, "you know the truth!"

"Dios mio, no!" Cesar yelled. "I fight! What good is water if we with three months to get it? In two weeks our crops will be dead! Where will we be next winter then?" "It isn't only that we are robbed of our water," Romero's father added, "but it is wasted before our eyes. We all know about the sink that swallows every drop that reaches it; and west of town Webster Creek was running full to its banks today."

"Well, ain't it got a right to run there?" The question came over the heads of the crowd like the snap of a whip.

As one man they turned and saw Bodine in the doorway, standing head and shoulders above everybody else in the room, a sardonic smile playing about his mouth.

CHAPTER XI
Buck Intrudes
Besides himself with rage, Esteban drew his gun, and, leveling it at Bodine, he cried in a voice that shook with emotion: "Get out of here, or I'll blow your head off!"

Mercedes attracted by the noise of her brother's attack, edged close to the storm-center. With marvelous swiftness she reached for Esteban's gun. Bodine looked at her with a sense of relief. He was glad that he had not been she who had attacked him.

The boy tried to fight her off; but Jose got between them and took the gun. Father and son glared at each other, but the weight of a score of years of submission was too much for the boy. He turned and slunk away. At the door he called back venomously: "Acklin's dog! That's what you are!"

Jose appeared not to notice his son's departure, so intently did he watch Bodine. Even Mercedes had slipped out without attracting his attention.

For the first time that night Buck began to grow uneasy. The dignity of the old Basque was unassailable. He knew it was time for speech. He tried to address them all, but against his will his gaze reverted to Old Ironsides.

"He's only a kid!" he said. "Just a kid! This is no time for kindergarten cackle. I'm going to talk to men, like a man would. I bought out old Hank Webster in good faith. I never saw Acklin until I met him in this very house. Before I bought that place, I had the records searched. The State says I am entitled to fourteen inches of water out of Webster Creek. And I'm going to get it."

"Fourteen inches?" Tuscarora questioned sarcastically. "You've taken it all."

"You mean," Bodine contradicted, "that I'm getting it all. Well, I don't need it. Suppose we turn it back into the Rebel, do I get my share?"

"If you did, Senor, there would be none left for us," Jose answered. "I know Webster filed for fourteen inches of water, but if we agree to any such compromise, there won't be an inch of water left to flow into the Washoe. Acklin and you would have it all, and we would be helping you to it. We have all filed, and been granted water rights on either Rebel Creek or the Little Washoe. What about that?"

This impression of sex difference lasted but a moment. I told myself that I was a silly, foolish woman, that my husband did not mean anything particularly against me, he was only annoyed because he might be expecting some business complications in Sydney's letter and did not want me to worry about it.

The waiter pulled out my chair and asked solicitously, "Will madame have fruit?" "Did not my husband order breakfast?" I asked, again feeling irritated. Jack had always ordered the meals up to this. The simple negligence took upon itself the importance almost of an insult.

"Only for himself, madame," came to my ears in obsequious tones. I had a terrible sinking of heart. Jack must be greatly worried over something or very angry at me.

"I will have a cup of coffee only," I knew my voice was trembling. Jack paid no attention whatever to my conversation with the waiter. He was scowling intently upon his letter. Consequently, when the coffee came I could not swallow.

With a great effort I murmured, "Jack, you must excuse me." I waited an instant for him to answer and then left the table perceptibly. I knew if I did not I should burst into tears in a public dining-room. I walked unseeing out of the door and, to my mortification, abruptly bumped into the hotel clerk who must have seen my agitation. At least I found my way to my room and threw myself on the bed with a feeling that my whole world was rocking.

I wonder if every bride feels that life is ended after the first quarrel. I wonder if there are any married people in the world who do not quarrel.

Jack and I had known each other for such a little while that we had not had the slightest disagreement in all the time of our engagement and here we were married only less than one month and both of us with hearts bursting with annoyance, if not actual hatred.

In whatever way we may patch up this difference, one of my most beautiful illusions is already dispated.

Jack was very inconsiderate. If he had only said to me I must not open letters that had come to him from his men friends, I would have respected his wishes and this never would have happened. But the way he has acted in the matter makes me believe in his heart he thinks I have done something disgraceful, something no right-minded woman would do.

I think I have been very liberal minded with Jack. I did not ask him anything about his life before he knew me. I considered that was a closed book, but I think that after marriage the book should be open for the inspection of either one of the partners.

I have such my mother often open dad's letters. In fact, she always took care of all correspondence that came to the house whether it was addressed to him or to her. I wonder if dad and mother had a quarrel before they came to that understanding?

TOMORROW: Contacting her correct letter, Leslie Prescott learns her husband does not believe they were made one by marriage.

HEROES OF WORLD WAR HONORED

Halls Dedicated to Allied Armies Opened in Paris

HARDING SENDS MESSAGE

Special Tribute Paid to American Fighters

PARIS. — (Associated Press.) — An exchange of telegrams between President Harding and President Millerand was a feature today of one of the most moving ceremonies here since the great war, when at the Invalides, the new halls in honor of the allied armies, especially the American army, were formally thrown open.

No discourse marked the ceremony of dedication. It was only a silent tribute to the memory of the dead. President Millerand on his arrival reviewed the guard of honor and then greeted Ambassador Herrick. Then the president passed thru the commemorative halls, including those devoted to the United States, England, Belgium, Portugal, Japan, Italy, Rumania, Jugo Slavia and Poland.

Many French officers were present, but Marshal Foch in simple civilian attire, seemed most to embody the dominating note of the ceremony — France at peace, solemnly commemorating the memories of unity in the common cause.

HARDING'S MESSAGE
President Harding's message was communicated to President Millerand by Ambassador Herrick. The ambassador declared the president of the United States was impressed by the thought that this dedication of memories of the world war would not only be the most interesting of its kind in the world's history, but would also constitute a powerful appeal to the sentiments which among all the nations inspired the splendid cooperation witnessed during the war. Ambassador Herrick added in the name of President Harding that the government and the people of the United States held the sincerest hope of seeing forever preserved the complete and constant friendship which marked the relations of the allied and associated powers during the war, as an over-lasting testimony of the true fraternity of nations and peoples. The French government has asked Ambassador Juseand in Washington to thank President Harding on behalf of President Millerand for the American president's message, "the particularly cordial terms of which will have a profound effect upon the French nation."

The ambassador will also voice France's appreciation of President Harding's situation to the circumstances which determined the close and effective cooperation of the allies during the war and will give to President Harding France's assurance that, like the government and people have the most ardent desire to see perpetuated in peace "that complete understanding and perfect friendship" that so happily marked the relations of the allied and associated powers during the period of the armed conflict.

DIABETES IS CURED BY NEW TREATMENT

NEW YORK. — The insulin treatment for diabetes developed by Dr. F. G. Banting of Toronto, already has proved of the greatest value, Dr. Simon Flexner, director of the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research, said today at the annual meeting of the directors of the Montefiore Hospital. Many patients whose cases had been regarded as hopeless had been cured with the treatment, he said.

"Banting's name will be associated with that of Pasteur and of Jenner in the future," he said.

Dr. Flexner declared for laws permitting scientific investigators greater power and freedom in performing autopsies.

CENTRAL HIGH NEWS NOTES

Regular weekly meeting of the Central High School Senate was held Monday evening in the study hall. No debate was had, because of absence of those who were to participate in the discussion.

The bill was postponed until Monday evening. Plans will be made in the near future for a debate to be held before the school. This will take place in the school auditorium.

A Mother and Daughter dinner will be given by the Blue Triangle club Wednesday evening in Trinity M. E. church. Over 200 Mothers and their Blue Triangle daughters are expected to be present for the affair.

A discussion concerning the right of cabinet members to speak in the House was the main feature of the House of Representatives meeting held Monday afternoon in the auditorium. By a majority vote it was decided by the "reps" that cabinet members should have a right to speak on the floor of the house.

"Value of the Social Sciences" was the topic for discussion at the weekly vocational guidance sessions held during the home room period on each Monday afternoon. Many interesting things concerning the value and help possible thru the knowledge of economics, history and science were dwelt upon by the students.

When you eat Bran for constipation be certain that it is ALL BRAN!

There is no time to fuss away trying to find out just what some mixed-up cereal with a small bran content can do to ward off the grave illness that constantly hovers over constipation sufferers. What your system demands is ALL BRAN! You must have ALL BRAN to give permanent relief! Anything less than ALL BRAN does not have the bulk that gives results! Your physician will recommend Kellogg's Bran because it is ALL BRAN! Kellogg's will do the work; it will give you permanent relief; it will remake your health if you will eat it regularly — because it is ALL BRAN! Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, is wonderful for health. It sweeps, cleans and purifies, ridding the system of the dangerous toxic poisons. Yet it is simply a nature-food — nature's own remedy for constipation; nature's way of keeping every body-organ tuned true.

Eat Kellogg's Bran regularly to give permanent relief naturally — at least two tablespoons daily; for chronic cases, with every meal. It is as beneficial as a preventive. Its nut-like flavor is delicious. You will like it sprinkled over your favorite hot or cold cereal, or eat it as a cereal. Kellogg's Bran makes delightful muffins, raisin bread, pancakes, etc. It adds a fine flavor to soups and gravies. Have the whole family eat Kellogg's Bran and see the health of every member improve.

All grocers sell Kellogg's Bran.

New York Couplet Dance in and Out of 3 States

STEP NOT, MISSED IN SHIFT

New World's Record is Set by Cleveland Girl

NEW YORK—(Associated Press)—Barred in New York and New Jersey by the police, the marathon dancers who started out at 7:30 o'clock Saturday night of smash world's records for endurance, transferred their activities to Connecticut today without missing a step. Reports from the Cygnus Athletic Club at East Portchester, Conn., said that three of the original four couples were still going strong.

The dancers started in an uptown Broadway hall and moved to Fort Lee, N. J., in a moving van when the police interfered.

When the officials there ordered them to move on they came back to New York in a van, dancing in a dinky flat "somewhere in Harlem." Fearing that they would be found they were transferred in a van again to the Connecticut town.

All of the dancers were said to be in fair condition. Chicken soup has constituted their main diet.

DANCERS DETERMINED

Undeterred by reports of new time records made by dancers in the crazy el-dorado through the country, the tri-state gliders said they would dance until they dropped on the floor.

The marathon record has been broken ten times in less than six weeks, records compiled here show. The time in hours and minutes follows:

March 6, Sunderland, England, 7:30; March 6, Edinburgh, 14:30; March 20, Marseilles, France, 24:04; March 30, Paris, 21:20; March 31, New York, 27:00; April 6, New York, 10:00; April 9, New York, 50:00; April 12, Cleveland, 52:16; April 14, Baltimore, 52:00; April 15, Houston, Texas, 55:53; April 17, Cleveland, 66:06.

And now word comes from France that a new style has been set in marathons—roller-skating. Only one record has been made so far but there has been only one attempt.

NEW WORLD'S RECORD

CLEVELAND.—(Associated Press)—The world's continuous dancing championship came back to Cleveland and into the hands of Madeline Gottschick at 8:54 a. m. today as she still continued dancing at a local club after having established the new record at 65 hours and 54 minutes, beating by one minute the record set by Miss Madeline Williams, of Houston, Texas.

Miss Gottschick quit at 9: a. m., setting the new world's record at 66 hours and six minutes, beating "Miss Williams" record by 13 minutes. She said she was forced to quit because of exhaustion, largely due to dancing on a tile floor.

Miss Gottschick started dancing Saturday at 3 p. m. Seventeen women and ten men, among the latter being a one-legged man, remained in these contests being conducted here.

Thomas Bert Sullivan, who wears an artificial leg, is trying to establish a world's record for non-stop dancing for persons with wooden legs. He started at 8:20 last night.

Margaret Howard and Andrew Raush, Miss Gottschick's nearest competitors, were fourteen hours behind her time.

An ordinance aimed to prohibit nonstop dancing contests was presented in city council last night but was referred to the judiciary committee without a vote.

DANCES BANNED

SAN FRANCISCO.—(Associated Press)—Non-stop long distance dancing flights are under ban, in the large Pacific coast cities, the authorities in San Francisco, Los Angeles, Portland, Ore.; Seattle, Wash., and Tacoma, Wash., have announced.

"The first couple that starts it," said Sheriff Matt Starwich, of Seattle, "I will put in jail on charges of insanity."

BOYS BOMBARD PAYMASTER WHO CANNOT BUY CANS

NASHVILLE, Tenn.—One cent apiece to boys for tin cans turned in during the "cleanup week" in Nashville almost caused a riot yesterday when after 60,000 cans had been delivered, the available funds for payment were exhausted. Unable to convert their remaining cans into coin, hundreds of youngsters bombarded the temporary paymaster with them, forcing him to seek shelter.

Emergency offerings by public spirited citizens were made and the paying off will be resumed today. Several diligent youths increased their supply of cans by raiding the city dumps in violation of rules.

BLOW IS AIMED AT HOUSE OF DAVID BY LEGISLATURE

LANSING, Mich.—At the behest of state officials who are leading the fight against the Isabelle House of David colony at Benton Harbor, the Michigan House of representatives last night passed a bill designed to permit the state to seek a receivership for the Berrien-county. The bill prohibits acquisition of property by fraud and the encouragement of teaching of immorality by religious organizations. It was sent to the senate today and indications are that it would be rushed thru to passage.

Sum Won for Injuries in Railway Accident

COLUMBUS.—(Associated Press)—Fred W. Weber will receive $24,000 from the United States railroad administration for injuries received in Mahoning-co when a train on the front of which he was riding struck a plank, the supreme court ruled today when it refused to hear an appeal from the Mahoning-co court of appeals where Weber was awarded the damages.

CITY WINS $4

The City of East Cleveland must content itself with a verdict of $4 from J. L. Free and the Royal Indemnity Company of New York for Free's failure to construct a street car line on Noble road, the supreme court decided today. The court refused to hear error proceedings from the Cuyahoga county court of appeals which in granting the city only $4 of a bond of $5,000 furnished by Free, held that the bond was a penalty and not liquidated damages.

KINGS STAND

Fines of $800 each assessed upon Chris and Solomon Grube in Clark-co, will stand, the supreme court decided today in refusing to allow the Grubes to bring their cases into court on error.

DECISION ON MOVIES

A moving picture theatre conducts a "theatrical or dramatic performance" and therefore may be regarded as a theatre so far as Sunday closing laws are concerned, the supreme court ruled today in affirming the decision of the Hancock-co court of appeals that the City of Findlay had the right to force Walter K. Richards to close his moving picture house in Findlay on Sunday.

FUNERAL OF MAN WHO DIES AT HOSPITAL HERE

HEARING GRANTED

COLUMBUS.—John Karayians, of Trumbull-co, awaiting execution at Ohio penitentiary, will be given a hearing before the supreme court. Karayians, found guilty of killing David Gamble, a negro, and Policeman Joe Lavendar, of Warren during a brawl over the stealing of some corn from Gamble, was granted permission to file a petition in error in the supreme court.

COMMUNISTS QUIT

NEW YORK.—(Associated Press)—The Communist party of America has dissolved itself and diverted its members to the Workers' party of America, which it recognizes as the only affiliation of the third internationale of Moscow in the United States, it was disclosed today by C. E. Ruthenberg, secretary of the central executive committee of the Workers' party.

This Communists dissolved according to Ruthenberg after voting at a secret convention here April 7, that they believed "the support which the Workers' party of America has already won among the working masses will enable it openly and publicly to carry on the struggle for Communism in the United States."

AID FOR OTTAWA POSTMASTER

Additional Clerk Hire Expected to be Afforded

According to information received by Stanley Kerr, Ottawa postmaster, postal authorities at Washington have received favorably his request for additional clerk hire.

It is believed that the Ottawa department will get another clerk to add to the present force, consisting of the postmaster, assistant postmaster and two clerks.

Increased business during the last six months has made additional help imperative. Postmaster Kerr declared Tuesday.

Mail order business of the Ottawa hatchery has been largely instrumental in increasing postal receipts. It made possible a request that Ottawa be given free mail delivery service by boosting receipts last year over the $10,000 mark.

It is probable the addition may be made by July 1, Kerr believes. Besides Kerr, the present force is composed of Ed Lockford, Ernest Frazer and Miss Mary Zellars.

PUTNAM-CO WOOL GROWERS GET CONTRACT BLANKS FOR POOLING OF THEIR OUTPUT

All wool growers of Putnam-co have been supplied with contract blanks with which to participate in the Sheep and Wool Growers' association pool.

Officials of the Ohio association state no wool will be handled this year unless contracts are signed and sent in by May 1. The date of April 1 has been set for the signing of contracts, but many agreements to pool wool have not yet been received at the central office.

Contracts have been received at the Columbus warehouse from individual producers in every county of the state, according to information received by J. W. Henceroth, Putnam-co farm agent.

It is indicated that many counties will be represented in the wool pool to a greater extent than last year. Miami-co will consign ten times more and Clinton 15 times more than in 1932. Union-co was first on the list last year, with 116,000 pounds. Delaware-co was second.

Henceroth urges that the signed contracts be sent in immediately. He advises that wool growers consult the officers of the association or farm bureau.

LIQUOR CHARGE FACED BY HERMAN RECKER, KALIDA

Herman Recker, Kalida, arrested a week ago on a charge of liquor possession, will be arraigned before Justice of the Peace B. L. Grillich, at Ottawa, April 28.

His arrest resulted from the filing of a juvenile case before Judge H. M. Summers. Some of the liquor he is alleged to have disposed of came into the hands of juveniles, according to officials. Several youths figured in the case, they declare.

Recker intimated he would plead guilty, but had only $50 with which to meet a fine of $100, officials state. The case was continued until April 28 after the $50 had been deposited.

OTTAWA CANDIDATES TO BE INITIATED AT DELPHOS

Plans for sending a number of candidates to an initiation May 6 at Delphos will be discussed Thursday night by Ottawa council, Knights of Columbus. Between ten and 12 candidates will be supplied, according to officials.

The Ottawa applicants for membership will be given the first degree sometime before the end of April. The second and third degrees will be staged at Delphos.

A representative from the supreme council will be present at the meeting Thursday night, officials announce.

ONLY OVERALLS, CALICO PERMITTED AT DANCE

Fines will be imposed on all who appear at a dance Wednesday at the Z. C. O. F. hall in Gibboa attired in other than overalls or calico.

The committee in charge of the affair says the boys must wear the "overalls" and the girls "dresses made from calico material." Invitations have been received by many Ottawa people.

HUMMON TO TELL ABOUT GENERAL ASSEMBLY WORK

J. C. Hummon, representative to the Ohio General Assembly from Putnam-co, will address a general meeting under farm bureau auspices Thursday night at the Centre school, Van Buren-twp.

Hummon will discuss farm legislation in the state legislature. Free "cups" will be served.

FINLAY PASTOR WILL OCCUPY OTTAWA PULPIT

Rev. Craven, pastor of the Kindy Presbyterian church, will occupy the pulpit at Ottawa Sunday. It was announced by P. D. Ward, who with J. C. Jones is acting as a committee on supply.

Rev. W. A. Sears, for two and a half years pastor of the Ottawa Presbyterian church, will leave Saturday to enter upon his new pastorate at Creston, near Wooster, he announced Tuesday.

The change was the result of a meeting of Lima Presbytery recently in Ada.

Mrs. Sears and daughter Beatrice remain in Ottawa until after the session. Miss Sears is a member of the 1933 graduating class of the high school.

ONLY ONE PRISONER IN PUTNAM-CO JAIL SINCE FEB. 20; ONE MEAL ONLY

Almost total absence of prisoners from the Ottawa-co jail since February 20 establishes an unusual record, according to Sheriff R. N. McCullough.

During the last two months there has been only one prisoner, arrested for contempt of court, and he was in jail for only one meal. It was learned afterward that his case was the result of mis-directing a letter in connection with divorce proceedings. Had two inmates on a street address not been transposed, Ottawa-co jail would have been entirely free of prisoners since February 20.

The cost of housing prisoners has been exactly 70 cents since the "drought" set in.

Shirley McCullough declared Thursday if business does not pick up soon there will be little, if anything, of jail items on his next expense account.

PAVING ORDERED AT OTTAWA

Council Enacts Ordinance for Fourth-st Improvement

Ottawa council met in special session Monday night and passed an ordinance determining to proceed with improvement of E. Fourth-st, from the intersection of Railroad-av to the corner of Locust-st, a distance of two blocks.

The ordinance specifies grading, draining, curbing and guttering and paving with vitrified brick in accordance with a resolution adopted by council April 2.

Assessments against abutting property will be paid in 20 semi-annual installments, unless the provision of meeting the cost by cash in 20 days is taken advantage of. Council will soon authorize bonds in anticipation of the levy and collection of assessments for the improvement, it is stated.

The project will be taken up further at the next regular council meeting, May 7.

OTTAWA KIWANIANS WILL ATTEND PARK FUND FAIR EVENT AT DELPHOS

Ottawa Kiwanians will send a delegation to Delphos Wednesday evening, when the club there will stage its regular luncheon as part of the community fair at St. John's auditorium, for benefit of the new Delphos city park.

Good response was had Monday evening at the luncheon in Modern Woodmen Hall when President Kersting inquired how many will attend. All clubs in the district have given invitations.

Richard Bruna, Marion auto dealer, proved himself an able funnisher after the luncheon Monday evening. He delivered the meeting with impromptu songs and jokes and gave selections on an organ, the chief part of which was a stovetop. Bruna, composer of 52 musical sections, swept the Kiwanians into a gale of laughter.

Rev. C. V. Krull, pastor of St. Peter and Paul Catholic church, gave a short talk on the advantages of being courteous, which is being stressed at present by Kiwanians. Father Krull and J. J. Rampe were admitted to membership.

CALENDAR OF MEETINGS IS ANNOUNCED BY FARM AGENT IN PUTNAM-CO

JOINT DITCH MEETING IS HELD AT OTTAWA

Commissioners of Allen and Putnam-coes organized Monday at a preliminary hearing on petition for the Newmon-Augsburger joint county ditch, at a meeting in Ottawa.

Commissioner J. W. Thompson of Allen-co was elected president and E. E. Deffenbaugh of Putnam-co secretary. The meeting adjourned without further action being taken.

PERSONAL TAX RETURNS ARE SLOW IN PUTNAM-CO

A. B. Bruskotter, auditor of Putnam-co, announced Tuesday that personal tax blanks are not being received rapidly. From all indications, he said, many taxpayers will lose their exemptions unless returns are made more speedily.

Taxpayers have until May 1 to return their personal tax reports, in order to advantage of the exemptions. Bruskotter urges that they be speeded up.

POSTMASTER TO SPEAK

Stanley Kerr, Ottawa postmaster, will speak Tuesday evening at a farm bureau meeting at "Travis college." S. J. Weaver is in charge of the meeting.

LIMA NEWS BRANCH D OPENED AT OTTAWA

FOLLOWING out its policy of giving to Lima and the Lima district the best newspaper money and skill can produce, The Lima News has opened a bureau at Ottawa thru which all news of Putnam-co will be handled.

The same careful attention will be given to news in that prosperous county as in all territory covered by this newspaper. News will be printed when it is new, not several days after it occurs.

Mr. Earl J. Fisher, who so successfully developed the Lima News bureau in Delphos, will be in charge of the Ottawa branch. He will have a corps of trained assistants throughout the county who will make it possible for this newspaper to give Putnam-co something it does not have—a daily paper with fresh, snappy, clean news of home.

Mr. Fisher has been in Ottawa several days for the purpose of organizing the county thoroly to give residents of that county a service they do not now enjoy. Special wire and interurban mail service between Ottawa and Lima will make this possible.

The Lima News, carrying full leased wire reports of the Associated Press and United Press as well as full NEA Service, a host of special features and the most complete local report from the entire Lima district, is fully equipped to offer patrons throughout this territory as much as any other newspaper published in Ohio.

News reports from Putnam-co will be easily found. Items will appear under a distinctive heading for the convenience of patrons there.

The Lima News asks the cooperation of Putnam-co residents in making the news report from that county the most comprehensive possible by submitting news to our bureau, Main-st., in person or by telephone. Both phones have been installed.

Special circulation facilities have been arranged which will give Putnam-co patrons the complete HOME EDITION of The Lima News the same evening it is printed—not a make-shift paper with news 24 or 26 hours old.

Tires, Dishes in Car Overturned Near Delphos

Delphos police received information at 1 a. m. Tuesday that a large touring car was in the ditch, three miles east of Delphos on the Harding Highway. Police investigated and found the name of Miles S. Daniels, Elkhardt, Ind., stamped on the inside of the car police said. One wheel had been torn off the car, which was turned on its side in the ditch. The car was loaded with new tires and dishes, police reported.

A towing car from the Thomas garage of Lima, took the machine to that city, after local police were informed that the goods were being moved to Lima. Daniels stated his lights had gone out, causing him to drive into the ditch, police reported. No one was injured.

INTERESTING RELICS ARE ADDED TO COLLECTION OF ALLEN-CO ORGANIZATION

A copper tea pot, made by hand 200 years ago, a pewter plate 250 years old, and a meat grinder used by the Shawnee Indians, are recent additions to the collection of relics displayed by the Allen-co Historical association at Memorial hall.

The latest collection of relics was bequeathed to the association by the late T. W. Stevenson, whose home was 212 N. McDonald-st. and will soon be placed on exhibition. Mrs. Ella Seymour, assistant secretary of the association, stated Tuesday. The collection also includes a cinnamon jug used 150 years ago, a snuff box used 200 years ago and one of the first pairs of ice skates used in Allen-co.

Accompanying the collection was a small section of a log of the first piano ever brought to Allen-co. A note, accompanying the section, stated that it had been given to Stevenson by Dr. M. Dorris, 713 Franklin-st. The arrival of the section completes the piano as Miss Ella Eysenbach, 714 W. Spring-st., presented to the association, the instrument used by her grandfather, W. E. Eysenbach, who lived in Delphos. The grandfather was the first music teacher in the county.

MAN DIES IN HOSPITAL

William Alberger, 40, died Tuesday morning at the Lima State hospital, from tuberculosis. His home was formerly in Chicago. He was transferred to the local institution from Longview hospital, Cincinnati, in December, 1915.

Alberger's mother and brother arrived here Tuesday from Chicago to claim the body. Interment was made in Woodlawn cemetery during the afternoon, at 4 o'clock.

BINGHAM WILL SPEAK AT LEAGUE MEETING TONIGHT

The second of the series of Know-your-own-community meeting held by the League of Women Voters, will be addressed by City Manager C. A. Bingham Tuesday evening at 7:30 in the assembly room of the public library.

Bingham will continue a discussion started at the last meeting of the club on municipal government. Mrs. Drusilla Reilly will report on activities of the state legislature the last two weeks and Mrs. Kent Hughes will conduct a discussion of present status of legislative sponsored by leagues of women voters throughout the state.

Mrs. Gibson R. Dildine is president of the League.

The Old National Bank will close at 1 o'clock Wednesday, for the funeral of the late Honorable James W. Halfhill.

HARDING DETERMINED ON RAILROAD MERGER

WASHINGTON — The administration's new railroad policy will be based upon consolidation of the roads into a few great systems.

This may require government purchase of the entire transportation system of the country at a cost of more than $20,000,000,000. Such a purchase would, however, be only temporary and the roads when consolidated, would promptly be sold back to their present owners. President Harding believes consolidation offers the only way out of the nation's transportation.

Regarding as he does the railroad program as one of the foremost confronting his administration, Mr. Harding intends to devote considerable of his speaking time on his trip to it. Indications are that when he is speaking to the people of the great manufacturing and farming centers of the middle west they will be faced with a transportation crisis growing out of the business and industrial revival and the approach of harvest. That will make it an even bigger problem.

RELATIVES OF SOLDIER MAY CLAIM COMPENSATION

That relatives will come forward to claim the estate of Don E. Miller, world war veteran, who died following his return from France in 1919, was the opinion expressed Tuesday by Prosecuting Attorney E. T. Lippincott.

Mrs. Ella Miller, mother of the soldier, died in 1922 after making application for state compensation, as his sole and only heir. The father, Don Miller and only brother, Eldon, disappeared years ago.

Besides $125 bonus due his heirs, the government is believed to have insurance money amounting to approximately $10,000, which will be paid over to the proper beneficiary. Several relatives have already communicated with Prosecutor Lippincott. He believes that many others will do so too.

OBITUARY

Edna Lucille Houchins Rose, daughter of Ira and Viola Houchins, was born in Logan-co, Ohio, Dec. 16, 1839, and departed this life April 11, 1923, aged 23 years, 3 months and 25 days. At the age of nine years she came to Akron to make her home and spent the remainder of her life in that vicinity. She was united in marriage to Arnett Rose Sept. 26, 1916, and to this union was born 4 children, 3 sons, James, Jack and Joe, and one daughter, June Arnette.

She was the third child of a family of five, one brother having preceded her to the better world. She leaves behind to mourn her loss her devoted husband and children, her father and mother, two sisters, Mrs. Ernest Gossard, of Alger, and Mrs. Leloy Arthur, of Lakeview, and one brother, Herman Houchins, of Lima. Also two aged grandmothers.

Her health began failing a year ago, but being of a patient and uncomplaining disposition, even her nearest neighbors knew little of her sufferings. She was an affectionate wife and mother, devoting her life to her family.

CITY WAGES PAID BY BOND ISSUE

5-Year Notes for $4,500 Ordered for Safety Men

GUN SALES TO BE WATCHED

License Ordinance to be Drawn for Revolver Dealers

Payment of salaries in the police and fire departments by the issue of $4,500 worth of 5-year bonds was authorized by the city commission Monday night.

"The city is and will be without funds raised within the limits of taxation," the ordinance authorizing the issue reads, to pay "salaries due and unpaid in the sum of $4,500."

The bonds will be paid off by a levy on all taxable property in the city in addition to all other taxes. The interest rate will be 5 per cent. It will probably be necessary to repeat this procedure when the next payroll falls due, it was said by officials.

LICENSES FOR GUN DEALERS

On recommendation of City Manager C. A. Bingham, Commissioner Harley moved that the city solicitor be instructed to prepare legislation regulating the sale and display of firearms, except hunting guns, by requiring dealers to secure permits to sell and display weapons.

The ordinance as outlined will provide that the dealer selling firearms shall make a complete record of each sale and report to the police department. It will also prohibit the display of firearms where they may be easily stolen.

The city manager's recommendation follows the theft of a number of revolvers from the store of F. H. Russell, 117 E. Wayne-st.

Commissioner Rohm's motion to include in the ordinance a thing from "cap pistols to cannon" died from lack of a second.

STREET REPAIRS NEEDED

After hearing a communication from the manager that only $6,300 of the $22,000 due the city for street repairs from the state automobile license fund had been received, the commission instructed the manager to ask the aid of the Lima Automobile club in obtaining the funds due. Some streets are in a dangerous condition and are becoming worse daily, the communication declared, and the city has no funds with which to repair them.

The street cleaning ordinance containing the program which the city manager hoped to put into effect this week, was held up at the request of Commissioner Ellis Jones who wanted "another week to think about it." At Jones' request, the ordinance was scheduled for three readings. The motion to pass the ordinance under suspended rules met with nays from Jones and Rohm, the first negative votes to be cast in an open commission meeting in several months.

The ordinance will be read at the next two meetings before being placed on its final passage.

BUILDING CODE SUBMITTED

The building code committee of the Board of Commerce, headed by Peter Hulsken, chairman, formally presented its report and asked that its adoption in ordinance form be expedited.

Commissioner Breckenridge's motion to instruct the solicitor to prepare the necessary legislation in time for the meeting next week was adopted.

The city manager took occasion to inform the commission that the zoning committee, appointed a year ago, had never reported and on motion of Breckenridge the city manager was instructed to ask for a report to be made at next week's meeting. If the committee does not report, the manager is instructed by the resolution to appoint a new committee.

In a second "downstairs session" after the "upstairs meeting" the proposal of the Pitometer company of Detroit to conduct a water survey of the city, to be paid for at the rate of 5 cents a thousand gallons of leakage found when found, was accepted and the company will begin work Monday.

Commissioner Rohm's opposition in the first "downstairs meeting" prevented the proposal from being brought up at the "upstairs meeting."

The Pitometer company will be paid $2,000 August 1 if it has shown a saving by that time. A second payment will be due next Spring.

A bond issue for $16,000, to cover the cost of water main extensions on streets now under contract to be paved, was authorized. The bonds will mature in 25 years.

Other ordinances vacating alleys near Grand-av and Baxter and Marian-av and Baxter; providing for notice of preparation of plans for part of North Lima Sewer district No. 1; authorizing the city manager to spend not to exceed $700 for the repair of fire engines; authorizing the manager to purchase 3,000 tons of 4-inch egg coal at $4.25 a ton delivered; and authorizing the manager to spend $3,700 for materials for the water works department were passed.

LICENSE FOR SPECIAL POLICE
Request of the police pension board that special policemen be required to obtain a license, paying a fee of $5, was adopted and the solicitor instructed to draw up the legislation. The fees will go into the pension fund for widows and orphans of former policemen.

A petition from property owners on S. Pine-st that the Pine-st bridge, torn up while the street was being graded toward the bridge, be repaved and the sidewalks relaid was granted. Recommendation of the city manager that funds for the work, estimated to cost $3,500, be taken from the bridge fund, which has a balance of $24,000 was accepted.

Other petitions for paving Oran-av from Eureka to the South end of Oran, paving West-alle from Wayne to the Pennsylvania railroad, and permitting V. M. Coons to operate a filling station on the south corner of St. John's and Fourth-av were granted.

CITY WEEK APPROVED
Resolutions commending the Kiwanis club for its efforts in

"Courtesy Week," declaring it necessary to improve N. Cole-st from Allegheny-st to the north side of Erie-av, and providing for the expenditure of funds collected from automobiles destroying city property to the proper department balances were adopted.

The report of the board of estimates on S. Main from the market-house grounds to Kibbey-st, amounting $7,026 against property owners, was received and filed.

PETITION RETURNED

A petition for the paving of Robb-av from Main to West-av was returned with the explanation that paving was inadvisable until the sewer outlet had been installed.

A resolution determining to proceed with the improvement of Holmes and Second-avs from Carlisle to Sugar by paving was adopted.

The recommendation of the city manager that permission be granted to J. E. Thomas to build a sewer at his own expense in Cole-st north of Rice-av was accepted and the solicitor instructed to prepare legislation.

R. L. Fletcher was granted permission to enter Cole-st sewer from Rice-st to 300 feet north of Rice. Recommendation of the manager that in the public safety fund $75 be transferred from patrol service to maintenance and repair of safety zones and in the water works fund that $1,200 be transferred from pumping to distribution was accepted.

MUD TOWN HOLDS KEY TO PEACE

Eyes of World Focused on Primitive Angola

ONCE LINKED ONLY WITH CAT

Now Seat of Great Turkish Nationalist Movement

ANGORA, Turkey — (Associated Press) — Angora, the birthplace of the great nationalist movement which saved the Ottoman Empire from disintegration, is a quaint town of 25,000 inhabitants in the fertile heart of Asia Minor. Once known to Americans only as the traditional home of the Angora cat and Angora goat, the little city is today the center of a great Mohammedan revival and of the renaissance of Turkey.

Its mud huts and rough-hewn stone houses, its narrow, dark streets and general air of primitiveness make it difficult for one to credit the assertion that this unpretentious capital holds the key to the peace of the world. "Yes, our town is a modest one," said a Turkish official to the correspondent, "but then even a greater movement than ours started in a stable."

Angora is 300 miles southeast of Constantinople, to which it is linked by an offshoot of the main line of the Baghdad railway from Eskishehr. It is 2,500 feet above the sea, and lies on a steep hill rising out of a shallow basin formed by a fringe of hills which ring it about at no great distance. The town itself is a curious contrast of east and west. Graceful minarets arise from among the red-roofed houses. Men and women in modern European dress contrast strangely with the unlettered peasant in apparel which was worn in the days of Mohammed.

LAND OF PEASANTS
This is the land of the Turkish-speaking peasants, simple villagers and good soldiers. Their worst characteristic is their docile stupidity. They do anything their politicians and priests tell them. They do not reason for themselves. Untutored and primitive, they want little. Their food is simple, consisting of bread, milk, honey, eggs and fruit. They eat Angora goat, while the world uses its fine fleece. Oxen drag their flint-studded sledges over their grain, separating the chaff from the wheat, and draw their wagons on solid wooden wheels. The wooden plough and the hand scythe of 2,000 years ago have thus far resisted the inroads of modern American agricultural machinery. The cold and cheerless.

Angora is overcrowded, and part of the population is forced to live in tents, dugouts and box-cars. M. Emery, the American commercial adviser has his home and office in a merchandise car at the freight station. Whenever he wants to visit outlying parts of Turkey, the Kemalists hitch his car on to a passenger train.

American visitors accustomed to their stately legislative buildings at home would probably be amazed at the little stone and mortar building which the Turks call their Grand National Assembly. The building was originally a village clubhouse. Inside are two waiting-rooms and the room in which Mustafa Kemal receives his official guests.

It is the hall of the Assembly itself, which is about the size of the average American Sunday-school hall.

There is a small gallery where visitors may listen to the speeches, and each deputy or minister is seated at a diminutive desk preparing his notes and speeches. On the platform sits the president or vice-president at a table, ringing a bell after the fashion of the speaker of the House of Representatives pounding his gavel. Here in Angora the bell is as little heeded as the gavel is in the American chamber when a deputy has something to say and insists upon being heard.

Arrangements for the dairy-poultry demonstration cars put on by the State university and the Erie railroad were completed for the Allegheny territory Tuesday.

T. M. Palmer, representing the Erie agricultural development service, accompanied by C. E. Cost, traveling freight and passenger agent, visited Lima, Harrod, McGuffey and Kenton, in connection with plans for the agricultural train.

The demonstration train will visit Spencerville April 24 and 25, Lima April 25 and 26, Harrod April 26 and 27 and McGuffey April 27 and 28. The exhibit and pictures are being well attended by Indiana farmers, Palmer stated, and interest shown thus far in Ohio indicates a good attendance when the train enters this state, April 23.

County health project leaders met at 10 a. m. Tuesday with Miss Wanda Przyluska, of the state university health service at the Board of Commerce auditorium.

Miss Przyluska spoke to Allen-lev leaders on the care of children. Plans for a community organization will be formulated Tuesday night at a meeting in Rockport.

Members of the Harrod-ty Farm bureau unit met Wednesday evening to discuss boys and girls' clubs and crop rotation. In addition, a program is being planned for the evening.

Prizes of a bull calf to each of four winners of a statewide essay contest on the subject of "Why Dad Should Raise Purebreds," are being offered by Ohio pure bred cattle raisers.

The contest, open to boys and girls from the ages 13 to 20, consists of four papers, limited to 1200 words.

The contestant will choose one of four breeds of cattle to advocate, Holsteins, Jerseys, Guernseys or Ayrshires. The prize for the best paper on each will be a registered bull calf of that breed.

The contest closes May 15.

YOUTH TELLS OF CRUELITIES

Beaten Almost Daily in Florida Camp, He Says

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. — (Associated Press) — Alleging that he had been flogged with a heavy belt while in the convict turpentine camp of Senator T. J. Knabb until his condition had become so severe that he was removed by a state prison inspector, Paul White, 17, of Washington, D. C., has placed in the hands of state authorities an affidavit setting forth additional details of alleged mistreatment.

The lad said he was beaten the third day after he had been sentenced to the camp on a vagrancy charge, and almost every day thereafter.

Often he was forced to put on wet clothes on arising, despite cold mornings, he said, and that even after his "hands and feet were about rotted and I was so weak I could hardly wobble around, he beat me just the same, kicked and struck me with his fist.

DEATH PROBE
TALLAHASSEE, Fla. — (Associated Press) — Resuming its inquiry into the death of Martin Tabert, North Dakota youth, who, it is alleged, died as a result of whipping inflicted while serving a sentence in a convict camp, the joint committee of the Florida legislature today called witnesses of the Putnam Lumber company to obtain their verdict of the affair.

It was in a camp of the Putnam company that Tabert died. Walter Higginbotham, former whipping boss of the camp, is under indictment for first degree murder as a result of Tabert's death.

The committee expected, within a day or so, to have before it the task of conducting further investigations extending to other convict camps, state and private, where alleged brutalities are said to have occurred.

A statement was given out yesterday from Arthur Johnson, a former convict, who served with Tabert, giving a description of Tabert's coming to camp, the alleged brutalities and finally the burial of Tabert which, Johnson said, was effected in a grave half filled with water after the body had been placed in a $10 coffin and clothed in a white shirt and collar and a pair of convict trousers.

BOHN A PUBLISHER
Earl R. Bohn, member of the City Commission, and manager of the savings department, Old National bank, was today elected a director in the South Side Publishing company, of which Ben. A. Grams is president. The vacancy was caused by the death of E. J. Mair, who was a heavy stockholder.

The Old National Bank will close at 1 o'clock Wednesday, for the funeral of the late Honorable James W. Halfhill.

COOK TOPS OTHERS IN POLICE TARGET CONTEST

Virgil Cook, desk man at police headquarters, led the regular force in the shooting match Monday afternoon with a score of 85 out of a possible 100. The shoot was one of the contents for a silver cup.

Chief T. A. Lanier bowed to Captain George Strick for top place by making a score of 87 while the captain hit 73.

Ranking below Cook are Swane with 83 and Laughlin and McCoy with 81 each.

TAX MUST BE PAID ON PROPERTY IN LITIGATION

Payment of taxes on property in litigation in a suit brought by Eunice Folk against Minnie Jones, was directed in an order issued in common pleas court Tuesday.

Amount of the taxes is $127.80. The order also requires the payment of court costs and attorney fees amounting to $1,118 and the payment of a loan of $5,315.13 to the First Joint Land Bank of Cleveland. The property will be sold and payments made from the price received. Sheriff Croson is directed to hold any balance remaining, subject to further orders of the court.

LIMA BUREAU FEATURED IN VIGILANCE BULLETIN

Bulletins recently issued by the National Vigilance committee of the Associated Advertisers clubs of the World, contain an account of several cases prosecuted by the Lima Better Business bureau.

The Vigilance committee, which is located at New York, is in the nature of the hub of the Better Business bureaus throughout the country and instances of fraudulent business enterprises encountered by local bureaus are broadcasted to all members.

NE WAS MASK PERFECTED
WASHINGTON—An "all purpose" gas mask impervious to poisons of every kind and equipped with an attachment that permits ready conversation by telephone or other communicating devices, has been perfected by the army chemical warfare service. Announcement of the invention, made today by the war department, says the new mask has been roughly tested by the army and navy and has been found to meet all conditions.

RADIO CURE FOR ILL AT SEA

Wireless Used to Treat Cases on Distant Ships

DOCTOR GIVES DIRECTIONS

Diagnosis Made When Symptoms Are Reported

HOBOKEN, N. J. — (Special) — Feeling an invalid's pulse by radio and taking a temperature reading by the dot and dash method are the newest steps in medical science.

Dr. William Irwin, ship's physician aboard the ocean liner President Harding, has treated people by wireless on each of his last four voyages across the Atlantic.

He was the first doctor to perform a surgical operation by radio. That was in 1913 when he wirelessly removed a tumor from the leg of an entomologist who was dying of blood poisoning with no medical aid available.

"Thousands of cargo ships do not carry physicians," said Dr. Irwin, "and when a sailor becomes ill his chances used to be pretty all. Now a wireless call brings diagnosis and prescription.

"On our last trip I treated a case of wood alcohol blindness for eight days before he boarded the steamship Narcus. After treating him three days by wireless our ship caught up with the Narcus and we took him aboard the President Harding. Before we landed in Hoboken I had him seeing so well that he could operate my typewriter.

PNEUMONIA CASE
"On another trip I saved a man from death by pneumonia. Wireless treatment lasted five days. Another case was the swelling of a gland under a man's ear, and a fourth was a case of two amputee fingers. All got well under wireless treatment. A man on a passing ship fell into the hold and fractured his skull and broke two ribs; I did what I could by wireless and then we stopped and took him aboard our ship, which has a hospital with 20 beds and full equipment.

"Errors of sickness at sea have diminished greatly since the development of radio. Ships that do not carry doctors always have medicine

CURTAIN FALLS ON CHURCH TRAGEDY

Rev. Dillon on Way to Prison

Rev. O'Neill Enroute to Grave

SLAYER'S PLEA GRANTED

Sent to Marquette Instead of Jackson Penitentiary

KALAMAZOO, Mich. — (Associated Press) — The last chapter in the tragedy of St. Augustine Catholic church here was being written today.

The body of Rev. Henry O'Neill, pastor of the parish, was enroute to Hubbardston, Mich., for burial. On another train in the custody of a police captain, Rev. Charles Dillon, confessed slayer of Father O'Neill, was on his way to the state house of correction at Marquette to which he was sentenced yesterday, to remain the rest of his life.

With the words "I am guilty, I am ready to pay," Father Dillon appeared in court yesterday refusing to permit a defense of his crime on an insanity plea and making but one request—that he be sentenced to the Marquette instead of the Jackson prison. "Virtually all of the state's desperate criminals and 'long termers' are sentenced to the Upper Peninsula penitentiary. UNFROCKED BY CRIME

The elderly ex-priest—his criminal act having automatically unfrocked him—will reach Marquette wearing the conventional habiliments of the priesthood. Not until he reaches the prison will he lay aside the garb symbolic of long years of service in the church as a member of the Carthusian Fathers Order, as a missionary in many foreign lands and finally as a visiting priest in the Michigan diocese.

It was while serving as assistant to Father O'Neill that he fired four bullets into the body of his superior as the latter sat at his evening meal Thursday night. Months after the ill-treatment by Father O'Neill and to the shooting, according to Dillon's explanation of his motive.

JUDGMENT GIVEN
Judgment by default for the sum of $22.22, was awarded Charles Jacobs, in common pleas court Tuesday in a suit against C. D. and Nannie Shaw.

INJURED IN COLLISION, J. M. CRIPPE RECOVERING
J. M. Cripp, 122 W. Haller-st, and his wife, injured Sunday when their car collided with a city street car on S. Main-st, opposite the Market house, were both out of danger Tuesday, according to City hospital attaches.

It was feared Monday that Cripp would die, but his injuries were found less serious than expected.

'CHAUFFEURETTES' MAKING GOOD

Lady Taxi Driver Flirts With Traffic Cop

EXPLAINS WORK METHODS

Uses Woman's Wiles to Draw Men's Patronage

By JOSEPHINE VAN DE GRIFT

NEW YORK—(Special)—"I see where you're advertising for lady taxi drivers," I said to the man in charge, "and I was wondering—"

"Got your chauffeur's license?"

said the man in charge. "No?"

Well, you'll have to get that, then you'll have to get a hawking license, then you'll have to go over to headquarters and be finger-printed, and they'll ask you all the places you've been in the past five years and look you up in the rogues' gallery.

"Oh, yes, be sure you've got two character references ready and you'd better brush up on what you know about batteries and things because they'll probably give you a mechanical test and then you'd better be prepared to tell 'em where all the streets and hotels and stations and steamship companies are. If you come thru with that all right I think maybe we can fix you up with a job."

"You've got me wrong," I said firmly. "I don't know a thing about brakes or clutches. I was merely wondering if I couldn't take a ride with one of your lady taxi drivers."

"Oh," said the man in charge.

RIDES WITH 'CHAUFFEURETTES'

Which is how I came to be "crushed" thru the streets of New York with Mrs. Helen Neumeyer—first of the city's new women taxi drivers—chauffeurettes they call 'em.

"What would you do," I said, "if a taxi driver—male—should run you up over the curb?"

"Flirt with him," answered Mrs. Neumeyer promptly. "I always believe in disarming an enemy."

A policeman's whistle sounded shrilly. "You've got to back up there," he shouted crossly, "can't go ahead till the second whistle—new ruling."

Then he noticed something.

Mrs. Neumeyer smiled. The policeman smiled. We sailed on.

A trolley car was slowing up and we sidled in near the curb. Whenever there's a crowd waiting for a car," explained my chauffeurette, "you always want to take the inside line. A lot of 'em will take a taxi, instead, see? And if there's another taxi cruising on ahead, you want to reach around and open your side door. People'll jump into a taxi with an open door every time."

"How much money do you make a week?" I queried politely.

"Forty dollars and tips,"

"If a couple of drunks wanted to ride, what would you do?"

"Ride 'em around till they sobered up, but I'd make 'em pay in advance."

"Suppose a couple wanted a taxi just so they could get a ride?"

"Oh, that's all right. I think romance needs all the encouragement you can give it. Besides—it's a large part of the business."

A young man dashed out of a hotel and began looking wildly up and down the street. "Taxi, sir," said the chauffeurette skillfully gliding at the curb.

"The Grand Central station," said the young man. "Quick."

He jumped in, the door slammed. The chauffeurette cut thru a whole line of impatient traffic. She cried, she dodged, she skimmed along the pavement.

"You're certainly a dandy driver," said her charge, dismounting. He tipped his hat.

"What was his fare?" I queried.

"Fifty cents."

"And how much did he tip you?"

"Fifty cents."

Go!

ACTRESS ECLIPSED BY NEW YORK STAGE HAND

NEW YORK—A stage hand temporarily eclipsed Ethel Barrymore at the Longacre theatre last night where she is starring in "The Laughing Lady."

Faint smoke came from back stage and floated over the audience, causing decided uneasiness. Miss Barrymore became a very serious lady. Then a stage hand, dressed in his working clothes, rushed to the center of the stage, his hat in one hand, and a smoking rag in the other.

"Just a little rag burning, ladies and gentlemen," he announced, and started for the wings.

The audience roared.

"Now, where am I?" said Miss Barrymore—and then she went ahead with her lines.

Bad Breath

Is Usually Due to Constipation

When you are constipated, not enough of Nature's lubricating liquid is produced in the bowel to keep the food waste soft and moving.

Doctors prescribe Nujol because it acts like this natural lubricant and thus secures regular bowel movements by Nature's own method—lubrication.

Nujol is a lubricant—not a medicine or laxative—so cannot grip. Try it today.

Big Turk Concession Won by America While Europeans Wrangle—Current Events Discussed for Students and Adults

By CHARLES P. STEVART

The concession granted by Turkey to an American syndicate to make the Near East over into something really up-to-date means more, maybe, than folk generally realize.

In fact, the syndicate will be undertaking one of the biggest pieces of work in the history of the world.

The Turks' handling of the rival interests which have been trying to get control of their resources has been funny, in its way.

For years these interests were English, German, French and Russian.

The rivalry had much to do with bricking on the war.

The war eliminated Germany. The revolution, by giving Russia no end of troubles at home, weakened her as an international factor. But the struggle between England and France was bitterer than ever. Nor was Russia entirely out of it. Her claims worried the other two countries' diplomats a good deal.

It was around this three-cornered dispute that the last Near Eastern conference at Lausanne revolved.

The United States merely looked on.

MAKING A COUNTRY OVER

Now Turkey's turned around and handed over to Americans—the Chester syndicate—practically everything the others were squabbling about.

Now big the concession is may be judged from all it includes:

Oil rights, mining rights, commercial rights, railroad-building rights, contract to transform Angora, the new Turkish capital, into a modern city, contract to develop Turkey's seaport, build docks, dredge harbors, construct terminals—contracts, in short, to do everything necessary to set the Turks on their feet as an important agricultural, commercial, industrial people.

If no hitch occurs, the concession which the Turkish parliament has ratified in due form, insures American predominance in the Near East for a generation to come—a good deal more so than any League of Nations "mandate" could have done.

FRANCE VILES HER PROTEST

France has come through with the first protest.

It was filed by General Pella, Gallie representative on the international commission in Constantinople.

Pella says the American concession infringes one which the sultan deposited upon gave to the French. The Turks answer that they're paying no attention to what the sultan did—he was just the allies' hired man when he did it.

It's fully expected that the English and Russians will protest, too, but it can be taken for granted that the Turks will say the same thing to them that they've said to the French.

Of course, one of the protesting government's weaknesses is that they can't agree among themselves. They oppose the United States, but they oppose one another as well.

Interested in the American concession are some very well-known men, like Admiral Colby M. Chester and General George W. Goethals. Kormit Roosevelt's name is mentioned, also.

The sum and substance of it is that the Turks think they can trust the United States and that they do not think they can trust the European powers.

DEBTS ARE WORRYING EUROPE

England's example, in arranging to pay her war debts, seems to be having an effect on other countries.

The Finns and Czechoslovaks have said they're ready to give bonds for their internal war-time promissory notes.

Serbia and Rumania announce themselves ready to acknowledge what they owe. It isn't the same thing as paying, but it shows good will.

More important, because he represents a bigger country, Premier Mussolini is planning to name a commission to decide on a method of clearing Italy's slate.

If Italy falls in line, it will become disconcertingly noticeable that France hasn't been heard from, which will make it hard for her to avoid doing something, too.

So it seems to look as if Americans might get back some of the funds they advanced during the war—loans which they thought were pretty doubtful for awhile.

WAS DI VALLIA CAPTURED?

It was reported last week that the association rooms into an indoor circus or "pique" Saturday night.

Soothsayers, freaks, musicians and what not will reign supreme when all members of the various departments will cooperate in making it one of the merriest entertainments ever staged at the "Y. W."

There will be side shows, a visit to the tomb of King Tut, laughing galleries, minstrel show, fortune telling booth, the marriage of the giraffes and many other novelties too numerous to mention. Hot sun-dresses, pop, ice cream and home-made cake will be sold by committees.

Proceeds of the "pique" will be utilized in sending delegates to the Winona Lake conference which will be held the last week in July.

have resigned in favor of a Labor cabinet.

Strict English precedent does call for this, but it's a rule which has been broken several times in recent years when the majority was temporary and accidental and the question wasn't important, as in the present case.

So the Conservatives wouldn't quit.

Labor members were "very angry," created a "scene" and Colonel Walter Guinness, Conservative assistant secretary of war, got a crack on the nose.

All this was unprecedented in the senate House of Commons.

France and Belgium, dispatches say, are preparing a statement of their demands on Germany, in expectation of a German proposition soon, if they'll get out of the Ruhr.

Among diplomats it's understood their purpose to be mighty quick with their answer to head any other country off from getting in with an offer to arbitrate.

They don't want arbitration. They want to settle the Ruhr question themselves.

WORLD ARMS RULE
UP TO U. S.

Nation-League to Ask Aid in Ammunition Control

HELD AS CAUSE OF WAR

24th Session of Council is Opened at Geneva

GENEVA — (United Press) — Business involving the United States was placed on the program of the 24th session of the council of the League of Nations, which opened here today.

Due to absence of some members when the council met this morning, however, it was feared action on vital questions might be delayed until the end of the week.

International recognition of Ireland as a free and independent state was a primary world question which was brought before the body by the British delegation. The permanent economic and financial advisory committee proposed that Ireland with the United States and some other nations not members of the league, be invited to attend the Geneva International customs conference.

If this is done, and it seems certain, it will carry the full understanding that Ireland is granted world recognition as an international entity.

ARMS QUESTION

The chief question to be brought before the council affecting the United States is the proposal of sending a note to America, asking how far that government is willing to cooperate in control of traffic in arms and ammunition, considered one of the most important causes of war. Nothing can be done toward this end, it is thought, unless the United States agrees to join the movement.

The United States was one of the original signatories of the treaty of St. Germain, but the senate refused to ratify the convention and all the other parties therefore refused to accept it.

In view of the recent proposal of President Harding that the United States join the international court of justice, equal interest is attached to the action to be taken in electing a successor to the late Judge Ruy Barbosa of Brazil. As in the past, the United States will still have a right to submit a candidate for the place, even if she cannot or does not want to participate in the actual election.

The resolution introduced before the league permanent white slavery advisory commission by Miss Grace Abbott, the American representative, calling upon the council to appoint an international commission for an immediate investigation in the leading ports of the world, also will be taken up. This is designed to determine the actual status of white slave traffic and on the information gained the league plans to work out a definite program for fighting the evil.

EYES BLACKENED, WIFE
DECLARES IN PETITION

Divorce petition filed in common pleas court Tuesday by Marie Augustino, charges Joe Augustino, Italian defendant, with hitting her in the eye with his fist. The alleged assault occurred April 1, the petition charges. Mrs. Augustino declares her optics were made black and blue by the blow.

They were married in Lima in 1913. There is one child, Marion 8 years. Custody of the child is sought by the wife, with a reasonable sum for maintenance.

NEGLECT, CRUELTY CHARGED IN PETITION FOR DIVORCE

Charges of neglect, cruelty and non-support are incorporated in a petition for divorce filed in common pleas court Tuesday by Ethel Webb, factory worker, who seeks a separation from William Webb, laborer.

They were married March 4, 1922, and parted August 1. During their residence together, Webb failed to provide for her, the plaintiff says, and has contributed nothing toward her support since the separation.

She alleges he frequently struck and beat her and that he possessed a mean and vicious temper.
Resumption of her former name,
Ethel Keller and other material relief is sought.

NEW TRIAL SOUGHT IN SUIT FOR LOSS OF ARM

Motion for a new trial filed in common pleas court by Pearl Griffith, Elida, against Chauncey Eagy, transfer man, was denied by Judge
Fred C. Becker Tuesday.

Griffith had an arm shot off while hunting with Eagy on the latter's farm in Sugar Creek-twp. He instituted suit for $15,000, for the loss of his arm.

A jury before Judge Becker recently brought in a verdict for no cause for action.

JAMES WOOD HALFHILL

FAIR beyond his own friends in the passing of J. W. Halphill from this life sincerely mourned. Long a resident of Lima and prominently identified with the affairs of this city, his removal cannot do otherwise than produce a gap in civic life not easily filled.

James Halphill was numbered among those in this city who believe in and work for the betterment of their community at all times. His life was so ordered as to be well worthy of emulation by others, therefore it is but the natural order of things that his taking away by death should cause sadness in the hearts of many.

As an attorney, as a citizen and a representative of the Lima spirit in all things desirable, James Halphill was an outstanding figure. Exhibiting at all times a high sense of honor and an unflinching adherence to the principle that right makes might, "Jim" Halphill, as he was familiarly known to those near him, commanded admiration and respect.

Altho rated as one of the most successful attorneys in Ohio, a deep student of the law and a formidable foe in court cases, he was a man of peace. Politically, he gave adherence to the Republican party. He was not a politician; he was more than that—a statesman, altho modest and retiring. Long a personal friend and confidant of President Harding, there is little doubt but that this splendid Lima citizen had been tendered places of prominence and trust politically, but always rejected.

He was instrumental to a great degree in bringing about the nomination of Warren G. Harding in the Chicago convention in 1920, as a delegate from the Fourth congressional district. His counsel and advice was eagerly sought and confidently adopted. As a member of fraternal societies and clubs, his name added luster to the bodies; as Allen-co's delegate in the Constitutional convention of 1912, his record was such as to reflect the greatest credit on the good judgment of his constituents. His broad intellect, his calm judgment and his great vision lent no small amount of aid in the framing of the new constitution of Ohio, ratified by the people by a vast majority.

Any community, no matter how richly endowed it may be in the possession of men of vision and outstanding worth, can ill afford to lose such a man as James Halphill. Therefore, Lima has suffered a great loss. He will live long in memory.

THIS SUMMER

WE'VE been having queer weather lately in most parts of the United States. And we may be in for a queer, unseasonal summer. The Weather Bureau in Washington reports that 1922 was the sixth year in succession with temperatures generally above normal east of the Rocky Mountains. Since nature in the long run keeps the average yearly temperature finely balanced, the reaction from these six abnormally warm years may be an abnormally cold year.

Will it come in 1923—a cold summer?

A cold summer is due, but probably not until about 1926, in line with the climax of the "55-year cycle."

GO back two cycles (100 years) from 1926 and you have 1816, "the year without a summer. Snow fell and ice formed in July in many of the northern states, and seed corn in 1816 sold as high as $4 a bushel," Herbert J. Browne writes in Henry Ford's Dearborn Independent.

Browne quotes from the diary of Charles Pierce of Philadelphia: "August, 1816—Cheerless and cold. Northeast rains. Ice one-half-inch thick. Indian corn frozen."

While 1816 was extraordinarily cold, it was merely one of the "summerless years" that come periodically. The Black Sea and the Dardenelles have been frozen over within recorded history. And in the year 1384 even the Adriatic froze.

ONE thing that helped make 1816 very cold, Browne writes, was the explosion of a huge volcano in the Dutch East Indies in 1815. Fine volcanic dust spread thru the atmosphere all over the earth, excluding much sunlight the following year 1816.

There was, of course, no such catastrophe in 1922, and that will help keep the summer of 1923 normally warm.

Another thing favorable to a warm summer this year is the fact that the Arctic Ocean, which has a tremendous determining influence on our weather, has been quite warm this winter.

Freakish conditions in the northland are reported by the American consul at Bergen, Norway. He says the cold-water fish have flocked northward. Ice caps in the Arctic are retreating. In Greenland glaciers are melting and exposing ground that had been covered by ice always within the memory of the oldest inhabitants.

The scientific evidence, coupled with precedent, indicates that the summer of 1923 probably will be a warm one, and that the weather will even itself up by sending us a cold summer about 1926—the possibly sooner.

Out, and neatly scraped at the Tullis, Columbus putting over a manure while I slept. Bowed in type friendliness to Julius Wise, the millionaire stone king; and Max Michael, the ladies costumer. To the Elks, didn't have my key, so patted up the wash and hayre toilet. There saw Jobey Kaufman, the renowned steel king, banker and universally popular Elk. Looking fit and brave, and in fine mood. Launched on Johnnie Wyre's future recorder's salary. In the afternoon, entertained my rich sister from St. Mary, and her mother. Also there was pretty Catharine Ann Carnos, who used the staircase for ski-ing, until her noble bottom grew applelike. And we laughed until we cried at her winning ways.

Back to the shoppe, and at my task. Phone from John W. Roby,

DOES A BABY NEED WATER

A young infant breast fed receives or requires about 2-2 1/2 ounces of milk for each pound of body weight each 24 hours. That means that the baby is receiving nearly one sixth of its weight in milk during the day (about 50 calories per day per pound of baby) and therefore requires little if any additional water, save when the breast milk is sufficient in quantity.

In the first three days of nursing the breast milk is insufficient in quantity; therefore the baby needs additional water of this time. One or two ounces of water which has been boiled may be given to the baby every four hours after the first 12 hours. If the neighbors, or somebody's baby book insists that the baby must have other nourishment until the secretion of breast milk is sufficient, the water may contain a very little sugar of milk (milk sugar, lactose), never more than half a teaspoonful in the two ounces of water. Before each of these four hourly waterings, the baby should invariably be put to the breast; only after he has nursed at the breast for at least two minutes should the water or the milk sugar solution be fed from a nursing bottle.

The wide mouth nursing bottle is preferable, because it is most easily cleaned; this style of bottle with its wide base nipple is probably the easiest for the baby to take water or food from. The use of the nursing bottle for watering the baby in the first three days, accustoms the baby to taking the bottle; this may prove a help in tiding over subsequent famines. After the flow of milk becomes established, about the third day, the baby no longer requires such frequent watering, tho in hot weather he should be offered a bottle of cool water regularly every morning and every evening after nursing.

If lactose (sugar of milk) is not available, a good substitute for the new born baby is corn syrup, not more than half a teaspoonful to the two ounces of boiled water; this, too should be offered only after the baby has nursed at the breast at least two minutes.

For the first five days or so, the normal baby shows a loss of weight amounting to one half to three fourths of a pound chiefly attributable to the elimination of water thru the skin, lungs and kidneys. After this early loss, the weight begins to increase at the rate of not less than four ounces weekly. If the nursing baby fails to gain at least four ounces each week after the first week, something is wrong; The first precaution to take in such a case is to make sure it isn't the scale.

The healthy baby generally falls asleep, the surest sign of satisfaction and contentment, after 10 to 20 minutes at the breast; when all is fair weather and father keeps sober and manfully tosses the pay envelope in mother's lap each Saturday night, the greedy youngster will show a gain of as much as eight ounces weekly, so that his weight will have doubled at the age of five months, and trebled at the end of a year. Of course, he ain't gonna nurse so long as that, not if he is a regular baby. He's gonna be offa breast feeding for life about the time he reaches the age of 10 months.

JUST FOLKS

BY EDGAR A. GUEST

ON GIVING
We're not so wise with what we own.
And yet we think it funny
The rich don't call us in and ask Us how to spend their money.
We know just what they ought to do,
Just whom they ought to give it to.
And strange it seems they never see
What is so close to you and me.

We squander ours on this and that,
But if we had a golden store Like some we know, we're sure of this—
Of good we'd do much more.

We'd walk the streets and give away
A bunch of greenbacks every day;
Had we the wealth the rich possess,
We'd buy a lot of happiness.

We'd pay the mortgage on the church,
To every worthy cause we'd give,
We'd square their debts and smooth
the way
For every living relative.

The rich may scatter alms about—
If so, we never find it out,
The rich may help the poor, but, oh,
They never help the ones we know.

Had we the wealth the rich possess
We'd answer every needy call,
We know a lot of good we'd do
The rich don't seem to do at all.

It's really strange you must admit
When we could do so much with it,
And so much better use a lot,
That they are rich and we are not.

WOMEN OF MIDDLE AGE

Relieved of Nervousness and Other Distressing Ailments by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Brooklyn, N. Y.—"I first took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound four years ago, and am taking it now for the change of life and other troubles and I receive great benefit from it. I am willing to let you use my letter as a testimonial because it is the truth. I found your booklet in my letter-box and read it carefully, and that is how I came to take the Vegetable Compound myself. It has given me quiet nerves so that I sleep all night, and a better appetite. I have recommended it already to all my friends and relatives."—Mrs. ENGELMANN, 2022 Palmetto St., Ridgewood, Brooklyn, N. Y.

For the woman suffering from nervous troubles causing sleeplessness, headache, hysteria, "the blues," Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will be found a splendid medicine. For the woman of middle age who is passing through the trials of that period, it can be depended upon to relieve the troubles common at that time.

Remember, the Vegetable Compound has a record of nearly fifty years of service and thousands of women praise its merit, as does Mrs. Engelmann. You should give it a fair trial now.

Federal Bonds Provide Diversity of Investment

As a customer of the Federal Bond & Mortgage Company you enjoy the advantage of diversified investment.

For Federal first mortgage real estate serial gold bonds are issued against property in many different cities.

More than that, they are issued against different types of income-producing buildings.

Yet all are units of first mortgages—we guarantee that.

And all measure up to the high Federal standard in every particular.

Federal admits of but one kind of safety and that is absolute safety—both as to principal and interest.

As to safety and stability one Federal first mortgage Bond is exactly like another Federal Bond.

CHILD OF SEA BRINGS REAL LIFE TO REELS

(By GERTRUDE GILLIAM.)
SHE "talked with God" from the masthead of ships and "spat tobacco juice" with sailors on deck, unawed by divinity and unshaken by contact with rough men.
 Shipwreck, tempest and scurvy, the shadowy perils and romance of the South Seas have beaten against this slim young nymph in a succession of adventures which single her out even among remarkable men.

She has charted her life by the North Star, the Bible and the honest counsel of her skipper daddy who reared her from infancy to the age of 16 aboard his sailing vessel.
 Her name is Joan Lowell. And she is the most fascinating catch of the far-flung movie net in many moons.

Whether or not she will be able convincingly to enact the concoctions of script writers remains to be seen. She has already done an interesting part as an Indian girl in Reginald Barker's screening of "The Law Bringers" for the Mayer organization—a good start.

But what vivid, elemental, first-hand romance she could contribute to a pallid screen! What perplexities for the censors!

Tales of life as young as Eve as she observed it on the coral atolls of the far Pacific, where black virgins twist lotus blossoms over their ears when the sea sings; where a dusty version of St. Anthony's temptation is a feature of every bridal; where there is no divorce; and where whippersnappers are banished to the outer reefs to scrape salt for the right coon; where she was seduced to be queen every time her father's ship landed for trading.

Detailed embellishment of all this and much more, the astonishing Miss Lowell, now 19, tells with the naive directness that shames oblique conventions. A girl strangely cuttured for all her unrestraint, steeped in Biblical and classical lore, imbibed in smoky cabins, strong, fearless, clear-eyed—meeting white women for the first time three years ago.

"Circumstances," she said, "compelled daddy to take me to sea with him when I was a three-months-old babe. Everyone said I'd die. He fed me dried milk, kept me clean and trusted to God. Look at me now!"

"I grew up with sailors. I cussed with the best of 'em. I could steer ship with my toes. Shirt and overalls were my only clothes. I understand rough men; they treated me with utter respect. I practiced with prune juice so that I could spit tobacco as far and straight as they. I have knocked men down with my fist. They regarded me as their equal."

"When scurvy struck us, I drank the blood of porpoise with the others. I did not think of myself as a woman—not until shortly before I left the ship for good when a faint reverential cut a lock of my hair as I lay dozing in a lifeboat. That was the dawn of self-consciousness."

"My father had always repressed any sentimental impulses, for fear I'd pine for my mother and women of my kind. My ideas of love and marriage were gleaned from what I observed on the island of Atafu, in the Union group, and from overhearing sailors' talk."

"Primitive life on that island, inhabited by about 800 blacks, seemed to me ideal. Civilization shocked me when I came ashore. No time for romance. Double meanings everywhere. Horrid words from pretty mouths. I wanted to run and dive into the clean sea."

It will be interesting to see how the movies utilize the colorful personality and experiences of this mermaid.

Society News

MRS. JOHN DOUGLASS MARTIN of New Stralsville will be the honor guest at a tea of exquisite appointments at the Lima club, Tuesday afternoon, when her sister and hostess, Mrs. Dwight L. Goodyear, W. Market-st., will preside. Tables will be laid in the west room of the club and will, with the color scheme of pink and orchid to be used, present a very pretty picture. A large platter basket, filled with pink roses and orchid sweet-peas, will form a centerpiece for a large table, seating seventeen guests, to occupy the corner of the room, while the smaller tables will have centerpieces of lighted orchid and pink candles, surrounded by roses and sweet-peas. Nut cups in the form of pink roses and place cards of orchid and pink will mark each place.

Guests of Mrs. Goodyear will be: Mesdames Mark Kolter, George Vale, W. L. Neville, John Galvin, Frank Maize, George MacDonnell, Harvey McClure, John Harley, Charles Ackerman, Peter Huisken, Charles Higgs, Bertha Pierce, A. J. Brown, T. Reed Dunlap, Clair Tolman, Don Campbell, W. H. King, D. McLaughlin, Joseph Cowan, E. A. William, L. B. Merritt, E. R. Curran, Jr., Roy Gregg, William Wemmer, Fred Garretson, M. A. M. Gooding, Isaac Motter, George Clayton, M. S. Thompson, Henry Deisel, Jr., Lemmer, Thompson, O. B. Seifridge, George Carter, Clarence Lufkin, William Deisel, Henry Deisel, George Glover, A. H. Cropp, Miss Margaret Gregg, Miss Gertrude Finley and Mrs. C. C. Swift and Mrs. Burr Fincell, of Kenton.

Dale Marshall, of Harrison-av., tenor soloist, left on Monday for Mansfield, where he will remain for several days, appearing in concerts there.

Mrs. M. L. Allen, S. Jameson-av., entertained the members of the Floral Guild, Monday evening, at her home. Mrs. R. P. Jones was assistant hostess. Final plans were made for a spring reception and musicale to be given by the members of the guild, April 25th, at the home of Mrs. G. L. Brunk, W. Elm-st. In a contest arranged by the hostess, Mrs. Wallace Landis was successful. Mrs. Charles Crohn was the only guest of the club.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald McHaffey, N. Charles-st., left Monday to remain the rest of the week in Columbus, with Mrs. McHaffey's mother, Mrs. D. L. Sherwood.

Members of the Clonian club enjoyed a very interesting meeting Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. A. Gramma, S. Col-st. Mrs. P. L. Butler gave a well-prepared paper on "Famous Trees" after which Mrs. C. P. Oliver spoke on "Preservation of our Forests." Mrs. J. B. Morgan had the discussion of the day on "Why has the Oak Tree been so important in Religious Superstition?" Mrs. Ralph Shrier, daughter of the hostess, and Mrs. Gale Dunlop delighted the guests with several harp and violin numbers.

The club will meet in two weeks with Mrs. J. P. Downey, N. Jameson-av. At this meeting a playlet, under the supervision of Mrs. Bowman, will be given.

Members of the Friday Bridge club will assemble at the Elks' home, Friday at one o'clock, for the last meeting of the year. Following the luncheon, three tables will be arranged for the bridge playing.

Mrs. M. S. Querry, 630 Albert-st., will welcome the members of the Quenza See club, Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. E. H. Hawisher, S. Baxter-st., will entertain the members of the Thursday Luncheon Bridge club at the Barr hotel, Thursday.

At the Barr Hotel, Tuesday evening, members of the Nulle club will enjoy a six-thirty o'clock dinner. This is the final meeting of the year and the meeting when those holding low scores in the bridge games for the year entertain those holding high scores. Following the dinner, the guests will go to the Carl Komninsk home, Jean Court, for an evening's play of bridge.

Mrs. Kent Hughes, Lakewood-av., leaves Wednesday for Columbus, where she will attend a meeting of the executive committee of the League of Women Voters of this state. Mrs. Hughes is second vice-president of the committee.

Mrs. John Carnes, Shawnee, entertained Monday evening in compliment to her house-guest, Mrs. W. J. Galvin, of Wilmington. The evening was enjoyed very informally. It being an excellent opportunity for Mrs. Galvin, who is a former resident of Lima, to renew acquaintances with her friends in this city.

Intimate friends of Mrs. Galvin, who Mrs. Carnes invited to her home were: Mrs. Chalmers Brown, Mrs. W. L. Reid, Mrs. Russell Young, Mrs. E. B. Andrews, Mrs. Henry Enck, Mrs. Kent Hughes, Mrs. J. J. Wyre and Mrs. Harry Fenton.

Mr. and Mrs. Galvin and son Wayne, left Tuesday for their home in Wilmington.

Mrs. Gabriel F. Gurley, who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Sharpley, W. Elm-st. for two weeks will return to her home in Pittsburgh, Thursday.

Members of the Modern Priscilla club will be welcomed to the home of Mrs. Fred Brodbeck, W. Spring-st., Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Scott McGinnis, W. Wayne-st., entertained the members of the Tuesday Luncheon Bridge club, at Hotel Argonne, Tuesday. Luncheon at one o'clock preceded the afternoon's bridge playing on the mezzanine floor. Substitutes for the afternoon were Mrs. O. W. Miller and Mrs. Merton Sealts.

The club will meet in two weeks with Mrs. Anna O'Connor, Washington and Wayne-sts.

Miss Sylvia Roemer of Wilmington, Ill., is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Sander and Miss Jennie Reif, W. High-st., enroute to New York City.

AMERICA'S CANDY QUEEN GIVES YOU HER RECIPES

BY BOY GIBSON

CHICAGO—Today's best news! Mrs. Ora Snyder has agreed to supply a score of recipes for "Mrs. Snyder's Home-Made Candies" to readers of The Lima News. All America knows about Mrs. Snyder—the woman who planted a nickel in a candy garden and made a million dollars grow from it, all within 13 years.

Mrs. Snyder makes and sells candy. "I can't make all the candy in the world, so I just make the best of it," is her copyrighted slogan.

The recipes that she is writing for The Lima News readers are among those that have made her fortune. But she is selecting simple ones, so that the amateur candy cook will be as sure as possible of success. Each of these recipes, before publication, is being tried out by a Chicago bride who's just learning to cook. Unless she succeeds with it, Mrs. Snyder will not publish it. "America's Candy Queen" is the title that has been given Mrs. Snyder.

The story of her success proves that it often is darkest just before the dawn. Her husband was desperately sick with typhoid fever. They were down to their last nickel.

Mrs. Snyder invested this in sugar and made some candy which she sold to school children.

This bit of enterprise was the seed from which her system of stores in Chicago has grown—a system so highly regarded that only recently she was offered $1,000,000 for her trade name alone.

She declined the offer. "I love the business," she says. "The pleasure I derive from it means so much more to me than money."

Mrs. Snyder's personality is as sweet as her candy. "Smile" is her watchword. "Cleanliness" is her business creed. So highly does she prize cleanliness that, as an example, she hires a manicurist to do nothing but look after the finger-nails of her candymakers.

The Mrs. Snyder is still in her forties, she is a grandmother, her grandchildren numbering two. But she preserves every attribute of youth, with experience added.

She employs 400 persons, and "Good Cheer" is the slogan of her establishments.

The first of Mrs. Snyder's candy recipes is printed herewith. The others will follow one a day. I've tasted of them, take my word for it, they are very, very good.

CARAMEL CREAMS

1 ounce bitter chocolate, cut in small pieces
2 tablespoons vanilla
Pinch salt
1 pint sweet cream
1 cup white corn sirup
1 cup granulated sugar
Mix sugar, corn sirup, chocolate, 1-2 pint cream, salt and butter and boil for 10 minutes, stirring almost constantly as chocolate burns quickly. Add remainder of the cream gradually until it forms a rather firm ball or just a little firmer than the soft ball stage. Add vanilla and 1-2 cup nut meats before removing from fire. Pour into small buttered tin so that layer will be 3-4 of an inch thick. It is best to not cut this candy until the next day or at least 12 hours after cooking. Cut into inch squares and wrap in wax paper or place on buttered plates.

How To Sleep ON A BARE FLOOR

IT is more a matter of SLEEP, than of bed or board.

Some people can sleep sitting up, standing up, even while walking.

Many people can't sleep in the softest of downy beds; and all of us suffer occasionally from nervous, tiring, wakefulness at night.

There is always a reason for sleeplessness. Usually, it is a "sour" stomach, a liver that has "lain down" on the job, congested bowels, or biliousness.

Then, just before retiring, take Beecham's Pills. They soothe an uneasy stomach, encourage the organs of digestion and elimination to natural activity, and assure restful sleep no matter what!

SUSIE SMART'S ADVICE

Dear Miss Susie:

Can you help me? I'm not in love; nobody broke my heart. I'm not in love; nobody broke my heart. I'm not in love; nobody broke my heart.

Enough of that. Here is the whole trouble: I am perfectly miserable and dying from loneliness. I have always had just lots of friends and company, but I came to Lima recently and nobody talks change interest in me to even be an enemy. I did go to a movie a few times with a fellow, but he was so sentimental and silly I became disgusted with him.

Now, if you could help me how to treat a girl decently, show her a good time in a nice quiet way and not like a man instead of a fellow in disguise, I will be very grateful.

The letter signed X. Y. Z. in The Lima News of Wednesday, seemed to have the right idea about showing a girl a good time.

Your very sincerely,

I ENJOYED your letter, N. O. B. but, isn't there just a little bit of sarcasm in it? I liked it, however. Write me again. You seem rather dissatisfied with your friends, but I think I know what kind of a man you would like to meet. Perhaps you will get some answers to this letter and if so, I will forward them to you. I will watch for some young men, who ask to meet your type of a girl.

Dear Miss Smart:

I am a reader of your column in The Lima News and I would like to know the girl who signed her name "Lonesome" at the bottom of her letter. She says she is 18 years old and would like to meet a fine young man.

I am 18 years old and have no bad habits, whatever it is proper for me to go with girls? I would like to go with this girl or write to her. Please ask me to send her my name and then will you please send it to me? LINDSAY BLUE EX-ES.

Dear Miss Smart:

I suppose you will think I am a silly, foolish girl. There is a marriage in it, I know who rides on the same car I take every morning. He works and I go to school.

He has asked me repeatedly to go to shows and to go with him. I have always refused. I am sure he has been wondering if I should have accepted his invitation for he has acted a little differently toward me lately. What shall I do?

You know very well what you ought to do. Ignore this man's advances and have nothing whatever to do with him. Any girl of your age knows the danger of an acquaintance with such a man.

If you doubt your strength of character and your ability to deal with the situation as you know you should, tell your parents the circumstances, so that they may put an end to this man's advances.

Dear Miss Smart:

Is it necessary that two tables be set for a wedding breakfast—one for the bride and one for the groom?

If the guests are so few that one table will accommodate everybody, it is not necessary or desirable to have a separate table for the bride party, as is customary at a larger wedding.

Dear Miss Smart:

We are two boys of 18 years of age and would like to have Gypsy and her partner's telephone number. Enclosed find stamped envelope for same.

I do not have Gypsy and her friend's telephone number, but if it is sent to me, I will forward it to you.

UNCLE SAM GIVES FISHING TIPS

Public Informed as to the Best Grounds

LAKES ARE WELL STOCKED

Waters of National Parks Teeming With Trout

WASHINGTON — (United Press) — Gather 'round, you fishermen, if you want to know where the fish really will bite this summer.

As the result of extensive restocking, the Department of Interior makes the prediction that the streams and lakes of the national parks will be "fairly teeming" with trout and other fish this summer.

Secretary of Interior Work loves to battle the mountain trout and offers the following fishing tips for those who may want to spend their vacations where the fish are game.

Crater Lake National Park, Oregon.—Fishing especially good for rainbow and cutthroat trout by fly casting or trolling from boats. Season from July to September 30.

Glacier National Park, Montana.—The waters of the park abound in cutthroat, rainbow, eastern brook, flat, Dolly Varden, and Mackinaw trout, whitefish, and grayling, many reaching large size. The over abundant grasshopper may be used successfully by those not skilled in the use of the fly. Government fish hatchery planted 1,867,700 fish in 1922. Season, June 15 to September 15.

Grand Canyon National Park, Arizona.—Bass, crappie, and catfish, and in several clear water tributaries of the Colorado River some trout have been planted with fair success. Season all the year.

Lafayette National Park, Maine.—The park lakes are well stocked with lake trout and land-locked salmon ranging in weight from one to six pounds. Season opens about April 10.

Lassen Volcanic National Park, California.—A variety of trout in lakes and streams makes fishing enjoyable sport. Season from June thru September.

Mount Rainier National Park, Washington.—On account of glacial origin, streams contain much sediment in summer and trout do not rise. In the spring and fall cutthroat, eastern brook, rainbow and Dolly Varden trout may be caught with bait and occasionally will take a fly. In 1922, 7,000 trout planted in park waters.

Rocky Mountain National Park, Colorado.—The streams and lakes are annually stocked with eastern brook, native (cutthroat), and rainbow trout from the State fish hatchery in the Park. Season from May to November.

Sequoia National Park, California.—Rainbow, steelhead, Loch Leven, cutthroat, and golden are the varieties of trout found in the Park, and Park waters are annually restocked. Season from June to October.

Yellowstone National Park, Wyoming.—Trout fishing in Yellowstone waters is unexcelled. Yellowstone Lake is the home of large trout which are taken freely from boats. Cutthroat, rainbow, Loch Leven, brown, Mackinaw (lake), eastern brook trout, Montana grayling, Rocky Mountain whitefish, yellow perch, and club are the varieties of Yellowstone fish. Fish hatchery in the Park is maintained by the United States Bureau of Fisheries.

Total fish plants for 1922, 8,608,800. The fishing season in the Park does not ordinarily begin before July, at which time trout fishing is at its best.

Yosemite National Park, California.—Few anglers during the summer and autumn are better in fishing the lakes and streams of Yosemite, but depend upon the artificial fly. The California Royal Coachman almost always proves the best lure. Early in the season grasshoppers and salmon eggs are used for bait with success. Then species of trout are found. Season from May to October.

Had Your Lessons In Dress, Manners?

(BY MARIAN HALE)

NEW YORK — (Special) — Our colleges for women should add two new courses to their curriculum—good manners, the other in good dressing.

So says Ruth St. Denis, the dancer.

"The purpose in establishing a chair of good dressing would not be so that women would give more thought to clothes, but so they might give less," she explains.

"At present the woman who knows her science and languages but who knows nothing of line, color and design is apt to look like a fright and create an unfavorable impression, because she is the victim of unscrupulous garment makers and salespersons who sell her the wrong thing. She knows she looks wrong but she does not know why."

WHY CHANGE STYLE?

"Changing styles are utterly ridiculous. The principles of beauty remain the same in art and in sculpture, why should they change so in dress? Merely because the majority of women are afraid to take a stand against arbitrary styles. If they knew more, they would. Their clothes would cease to be a problem."

Miss St. Denis has evolved a simple type of costume which she wears in defiance of fashion's edict. It is a straight-line affair which slips over the head, with draped sleeves and a wide sash, but guileless of hooks or clasps. She introduces color in the sash, in the turban she inevitably wears and in her necklaces and ornaments. She can vary it in many ways.

"We need a chair of manners," she went on, "because most children no longer get them at home. That is, there is no life about the family fireside where father and mother pass on the ethics of behavior."

REFORM BY DANCING

"So our young people have bad manners because one acquires those more easily than beautiful ones. It is so foolish to feel that manners, grace, ease and charm cannot be taught. They have to be. They are as capable of cultivation as art or music. Whenever you see a beautifully behaved child you can depend upon it that you are seeing a trained one."

The dance, Miss St. Denis believes, is the greatest agent for reform, both in dress and manners.

A girl who has studied classical dancing will never encase her body in a tight corset. Nor will she have a taste for clothes that do not give her freedom, grace and comfort. She is bound to be easy in her manners because she is relaxed.

"It is the high-strung, nervous people who are most apt to be rude and irritable. They lack mental and physical control."

Miss St. Denis believes that jazz and the jazz age are passing and that we are faced toward moderation and conservatism.

CASE CANCELLED, JURORS EXCUSED UNTIL THURSDAY

Don't Spoil Your Child's Hair By Washing It

When you wash your child's hair be careful what you use. Many soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much free alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is Mulsified coconut oil shampoo, for this is pure and entirely grassless. It is very cheap and beats anything else all to pieces.

Two or three teaspoonfuls of Mulsified in a cup of glass with a little warm water is all that is required. Simply moisten the hair with water, and rub the Mulsified in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to manage. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff. You can get Mulsified coconut oil shampoo at any drug store, and a few ounces will last everyone in the family for months. Be sure your druggist gives you Mulsified.—Adv.

BEAVER DAM LADY INDORSES IT

Feeling Better Than in Years Since Taking the Plant Juice Medicine

RHEUMATISM IS RELIEVED

"I am confident that your Plant Juice medicine is all that you say it is and I am glad to indorse it for it has done me a great deal of good," said Mrs. M. F. Hunter, popular and well known lady of Beaverdam, Ohio, while talking with The Plant Juice Man recently at Hunter's drug store, 49 Public Square, Lima, where large crowds of people from Lima and throughout all this section are now calling daily.

"For years I had suffered from indigestion and had continual trouble from bloating," Mrs. Hunter continued. "I also was subject to constipation and had the rheumatism. I was nervous and could not sleep well for my rest was broken."

"When I started taking your Plant Juice medicine I could notice a change almost immediately and now I am greatly improved. The nervousness has disappeared and I sleep well. The bloating has been relieved and I am able to eat about anything I want and not suffer from indigestion or any other bad after effects. The constipation is gone also and the rheumatism has been entirely relieved."

"The truth is that I am in better physical condition than for years and I gladly recommend your Plant Juice medicine."

The Plant Juice Man is at Hunter's drug store, 49 Public Square, Lima, where he is daily meeting the local public and introducing and explaining the merits of this medicine. Free samples given.

Plant Juice is sold also in Lima at Hunter's drug store at Main and Wayne streets and at the Argonne drug store, opposite Post Office.—Adv.

National League Season Opened With Ceremony

(BY HENRY L. FARRELL)

NEW YORK — One half of the royal family of baseball went to work this afternoon, when the National League started its 48th season. After the older organization finished its parading, band tooting and flag raising, the American League will stage its jumpoff Wednesday.

Four games were carried on the day's program, and favorable weather reported early today, probably would not necessitate any postponements.

The world champion Giants opened against the Braves in Boston; Cincinnati fans looked at two pennant contenders in their own Reds and the St. Louis Cards; the Pittsburgh Pirates helped the Cubs open their new park and metropolitan fans had to watch the Phils and the Robins.

Plenty of ceremonies were provided before the umpires let their annual "Play Ball" stir the athletes off the bench. It is only on formal occasions like the opener and the big games of the world's series that the umpires put on their high hats and use the words of the book in getting a game started. For ordinary games the more prosaic—"Come on with a batter"—is the approved crack of the whip.

Commissioner Landis was to be the ranking dignitary at Boston where Christy Mathewson made his debut as a club prey. John A. Heydler, president of the league, picked Chicago for the place of honor in the new park which will seat 32,000 fans. Just ordinary club bowlers, mayors and leading citizens held forth at the other parts.

MINOR STARS
Two of the prize plants from the minors got their first look at a big city ball crowd. Jimmy O'Connell, $75,000 Giant outfielder made his debut with McGraw's champions. Sands, $50,000 California shortstop worked in the Philadelphia infield. The Boston Braves also presented a prospective star in Jack Conlon, former Harvard captain, who held down second base for the Braves. Arthur Neft or Hugh McQuillan were expected to get the call for the pitching job with the Giants and Tim McNamara, the Fordham College star, was sent to the mound by the Braves. Ring or Meadows were probable pitchers for the Phils and the veteran Dutch Reuther was expected to be a sure starter for the Robins.

BIG SEASON
Every one expects a big season, because baseball has cultivated the habit of drawing better each year, and the prospects are bright for a great pennant battle between the Giants, Reds, Pirates and Cards. All the National League clubs were in good condition to start the season. The Giant pitchers have developed as far as McGraw would like to have them at this time of the year, but the champions are in good shape otherwise. The Reds are crippled somewhat by the absence of Jake Daubert, but it is believed that he will be able to get in the game within two weeks. The St. Louis Cards have two outfielders, Flack and Myers, laid up with injured legs, but it is not serious.

The Giants came in for a little ceremony in Boston when they were presented with diamond rings, the gift of the club owners for winning the series last fall from the Yanks. Last year the Giants were all given diamond watch fobs.

ONE NEW MANAGER
Only one new managerial face presented itself, and that was in lantern-jawed visage of Arthur Fletcher, the former Giant star, who will have a Philadelphia cap pulled down over one eye. Fletcher was game enough to take a job that is almost hopeless.

To Be Held At Y. M. Here

A handball tournament for all members of the Y. M. C. A. has been planned for the latter part of this month.

Entries for the affair must be in the "Y" physical department of offices not later than 9:30 p. m. on April 21.

Under present plans the first pairings will be announced and played on sometime the following week and the entire tourney finished by the first of May.

To win a match in the tourney, a player must win two out of three games. The players will officiate their own games.

Arrangements have been made to present the winner of the tournament play with a handsome medal. There will be an entry fee of 50 cents for all players. All must be members of the "Y" in good standing.

To enter fill out the following blank and send to the Physical Department of the Lima Y. M. C. A.

WHAT A. L. MANAGERS ARE PREDICTING

Manager Philadelphia Athletics
I feel that the experimental days are over as far as the Athletics are concerned. My team has arrived. All I ask is pitching, and we will make any team in the league step aside. Sammy Hale has made our infield, which is now one of the best in the American League. Pitching is my greatest worry, yet outside of the New York club, I can't figure where any other team in the American League has much on us in that respect. The Athletics are no longer the door mat of the American League.

(BY DONIE BUSH)
Manager Washington Nationals
Far be it from me to make any predictions on the outcome of the American League race. In my first year as a big league manager I am anxious to make good. I am hopeful that the showing of the Washington club will win me such recognition. I know the players are for me and that means everything. I will say this about my club, it will be in there fighting for every game. Washington fans will get a run for their money for the players will always be giving their best efforts.

(BY FRANK CHANCE)
Manager Boston Red Sox Getting out of last place will be chief thought in my new job as manager of the Boston Red Sox. It would be ridiculous for me to talk pennant stuff. I feel that the addition of McMillan, Camp, O'Doul and Murray, secured in the trade with New York, will help my team, also the Washington trade that gave me Catcher Picinich and Outfielder Gobel and Infielder Shanks. Boston fans will see many new faces this year, pretty much a new team that is going to make a better showing than last year. O'Doul and Murray should help my pitching.

(BY TY COBB)
Manager Detroit Tigers
Give the Detroit team good pitching and it will make trouble for any club. The Tigers are strong at every position and well supplied with capable substitutes. Pitching will be the big thing with my club. If Johnson comes thru as I feel he should, and Rip Collins and Ray Francis win consistently, the Tigers are going to upset a lot of dogs for the experts as well as other American League clubs. I am well pleased with my youngsters, and positive several of them will be very valuable to the club during the coming season.

(BY MILLER HUGGINS)
Manager New York Yankees
Pitching will decide the American League pennant. The Yanks have the pitching. In Penneck I have acquired a high-class left-handed pitcher to fill the one and only weakness on our club. I am confident the Yankees will again repeat. I want another crack at the world series. The Yankees are a much better club than they ever showed in the big event. The best feeling prevails on my club despite the efforts of some people to make it seem otherwise.

(BY LEE FOHL)
Manager St. Louis Browns
The big idea with me is to win ball games during the season rather than pennants in the spring. I have no predictions to make as to the outcome of the race. I am positive I have a great ball club and feel certain the boys will prove it. The Browns lost the pennant by only one game last year. We may do even better this year. I am hopeful that Sisler will have fully recovered as he means much to my ball club. His absence from the game for any great length of time would prove very serious.

(BY TRIS SPEAKER)
Manager Cleveland Indians
In rebuilding the Cleveland ball club, I feel that we have already accomplished much. Three new players, Lutzke, Summa and Myatt, will add much needed strength to the Indians. The spirit to win is uppermost with every player. The boys have forgotten they ever won a world series in 1920. I am shooting at a first division berth. Fourth place will look pretty good to me. I want to stick around in the first division. If a club holds down a berth there, first place is never far away.

(BY KID GLEASON)
Manager Chicago White Sox
The White Sox are going to be mighty troublesome the coming season. Willie Kamm is a great ball player. He has plugged up the hole at third base. My pitching will be much improved. Leverette, Robertson and Ted Blankenship made their major league debut last year. The trio of youngsters will show the benefit of that experience. Then there is "Red" Faber, the most effective pitcher in the league last year. In addition I have three star vets in Schalk, Collins and Hooper. We are certain to make a first division noise.

SOPHS BATTLE JUNIORS IN BASEBALL

A fast game is expected in the South high school inter-class baseball league this week when the Sophomores and Juniors mix.

These two teams were victorious last week, the second year men winning from the Freshmen, and the Juniors beating the Seniors.

In the second round of play the Faculty will mix with the Freshmen, which should be a walk away for the teachers, and the Juniors play the Sophomores.

There will not be any varsity baseball or track at South this spring, according to announcement of Coach Eusebio, but the inter-class games will take the place of the regular sport. It is understood there may be an inter-class track and field meet later in the year.

YESTERYEARS IN WORLD OF SPORT

TEN YEARS AGO, on April 17, 1913, Larry Doyle, New York Giant second baseman, brought in a 3 to 2 victory for his team against Boston by making four of New York's hits and scoring two of the three runs.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO, on April 17, 1898, F. B. Abernethy and R. T. Eppeson of Colorado Springs lowered the American fifty-mile straightaway tandem bicycle road record from 3:10 to 2:08.30.

P. C. Wright lowered the same record for single wheel to 2:40. Jim Jeffries stood to fight Peter Maher for 10 rounds at Empire Athletic Club, Syracuse, N. Y., two weeks after Jeffries-Sharkey fight.

CENTRAL HIGH TRACK MEN IN STRENUOUS WORK

Central High tracksters began work Monday for the most strenuous week of the season, scheduled for a Central track team.

Coach Theibert had his runners at the Driving Park after school where they spent much time in practicing starts and going over hurdles. Now that the squad is beginning to near fair conditions they will have hard workouts ahead of them for every day until the first of June.

A training diet has been set and in a couple of weeks Theibert's protégés should be in the proverbial pink of condition. The jumpers worked out in the Central gym and some fairly good heights was made considering that it was indoor jumping.

STOCKS ON SHARP UPWARD BOUND

New Highs Are Scored by Many Shares

NEW YORK—Mixed price movements took place at the opening of today's stock market but the main tendency was upward. New high records for the year were established by Dupont at 133 1/4, Canadian Pacific at 152 5/8 and General Motors at 126 3/4 while Stewart-Warner Speedometer duplicated its previous top of 123 1/4, the net gains ranging from fractions to one point. Most of the other motor and motor accessory shares also moved to higher ground. Sporadic selling again broke out in the oil groups.

Prices hardened after the early selling orders had been absorbed. Trading in rails was more active with "Socon" common leading the advance with a gain of 1 1/4. Substantial fractional improvement was registered by New York Central, Southern Railway common and preferred, Union Pacific, Baltimore and Ohio, Rock Island and Reading. Stewart-Warner established a new top at 124 1/4 up 1 3/4 and Dupont extended its gain to 2 1/4. Gains of 1 to nearly 2 points also were established by U. S. Steel, Manilla, Punta Alegre and Cuba Sugar preferred, Reynolds Spring, Marland Oil and International Harvester. Crude and Iron Products were conspicuously heavy. Foreign exchanges opened easier, demand sterling being quoted around $4.65 and French francs dropping 3 points to 66 cents.

Indications of a gradually increasing public interest in the rail shares were reflected in the gains of one to two points registered by a score of the representative issues before noon. This demonstration of strength brought fresh buying power into the industrial group in which the gains of popular shares ran from 1 to 4 points. Early demand embraced the oil, food, motor, motor accessory and public utility issues. Dupont extended its early gain to four points, American Water Works common to 3 5/8 and Manhattan Elevated Guaranteed stock to 3 points, while Corn Products, California Petroleum, Martin Perry, South Porto Rican Sugar and Cuba Cane Sugar preferred were among the stocks which sold to 2 1/2 points above yesterday's final prices. Iron Products, United Railway Investment preferred and Mine preferred were under selling pressure, the last named dropping two points to a new low record for the year. Call money opened at 5 per cent.

CARDS OF THANKS

CARD OF THANKS
 We wish to extend our thanks to the ministers and friends who gathered for the comforting words and music, and to all who do us thank you for their sympathy and help during the illness and death of our loved one and mother.

SHORT SHAVINGS

Column of Anecdotes About Homo Folks
What is the funniest experience that ever happened to you? Write it briefly and send it to the Short Shavings editor of The Lima News. The best contributed Short Shavings published in the week The News will pay $1. Full names and address must be signed.

Foss Zartman put his overcoat on when ready to leave a cafeteria and looked around for his hat. He couldn't find it. "It's on your head," said the cashier. "Now I remember," he said. "I put it on before I took down my overcoat."

Harry Fast, postal clerk, sat in the street car beside a woman who was telling a friend how her toes were trampled in the rush when she boarded it at Public Square. "It made me lumpy," she said. "I feel as tho I had been dancing with my husband."

Walter Martin, printer, notes that ice cream pies still are sold. A friend bought one to take home. He made the error of putting his wallet in his side pocket and the pie in his hip pocket. When he boarded a car in the rush for seats he sat on it.

TODAY'S PUZZLE

ANYONESCOFFPROPHIS
The above letters represent a sentence, with eight letters missing. The eight letters are all the same—a consonant, and if they are properly inserted, and the words spaced, you will find the complete sentence, which states a simple fact known to every Egyptian excavator.
Yesterday's answer:

Start Buying a FORD Car Now

Five Dollars starts you toward owning a new Ford car and you get interest on your money all the time you are making deposits toward owning that car.

A special Ford owners' department has been arranged with the Lima Trust Co., for this purpose. Start with $5 today. You'll own the car before you realize it.

Radio Outfits and Supplies

You have not heard a concert broadcasted by radio unless it was intercepted with a Type M T 11, manufactured by the Maus Radio Company. Ask the broadcast listener who owns and operates one of our sets, the most talked of instrument which was displayed at the Radio Show held at Columbus last week. Hundreds of the world's most famous artists will entertain you each evening and the use of a Type M T 11 will insure a perfect reproduction. All of our receiving sets will respond to the new broadcast wave length recently passed by the Department of Commerce.
